ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY

Bryan Hall

Remembered for its four-sided clock, Bryan Hall is named for Enoch Bryan, president from 1893 to 1916. Chimes are played every evening at 7 p.m. and they are a well-known tradition of the building built in 1909.

Originally a library and auditorium, Bryan was remodeled in 1950 for speech and music use. In 1958 the auditorium seating was changed and the capacity is now 802.

Concerts, plays, variety shows, and the annual Theta Sig "Extras" are performed yearly on the Bryan stage.

Todd Hall

Todd traffic, its complications, delays, and finally one-way signs, was one of the familiar memories of classes in this four-story building. The main doors were widened with the work completed just after the students returned from Christmas vacation.

Built in 1949, it was named for C. C. Todd, former dean of the college of Sciences and Arts. The original cost was about $2,000,000.

Usual inhabitants of the building are history, political science, business, sociology, and anthropology majors.

The auditorium makes a nice test atmosphere. It is also used for the Friday night Y-Movie and Lecture-Artist guests and other speakers.

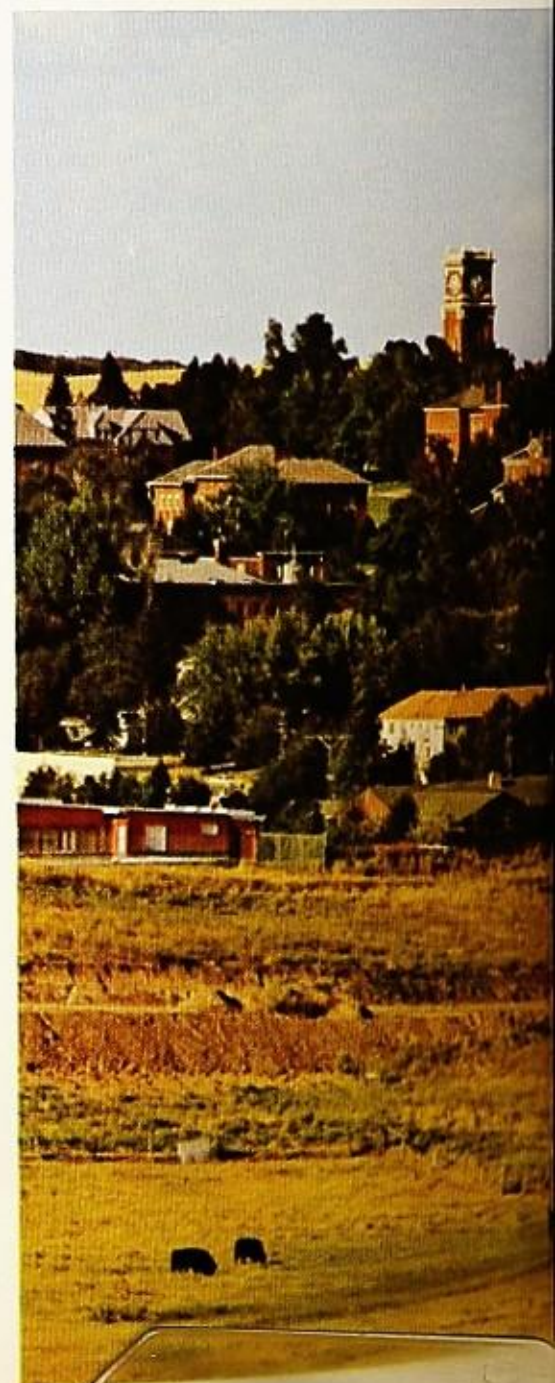

WSU Campus

As a land grant college, we celebrated the centennial of the Congressional action of 1861 this year. The 7,828 enrollment set a record in the fall.

Colleges which WSU now boasts include Agriculture, Economics and Business, Education, Engineering, and Mineral Technology, Home Economics, Pharmacy, Physical Education and Recreation, Sciences and Arts, and Veterinary Medicine. The state General Extension Service is also situated on our campus.

In the heart of Whitman county, the largest wheat producing county in the United States, Pullman students seldom see the wheat fields as they are harvested. Usually students observe only the stubble and worked ground in the fall with its colorful patterns, and the beautiful green wheat as it moves with the wind in the Spring.

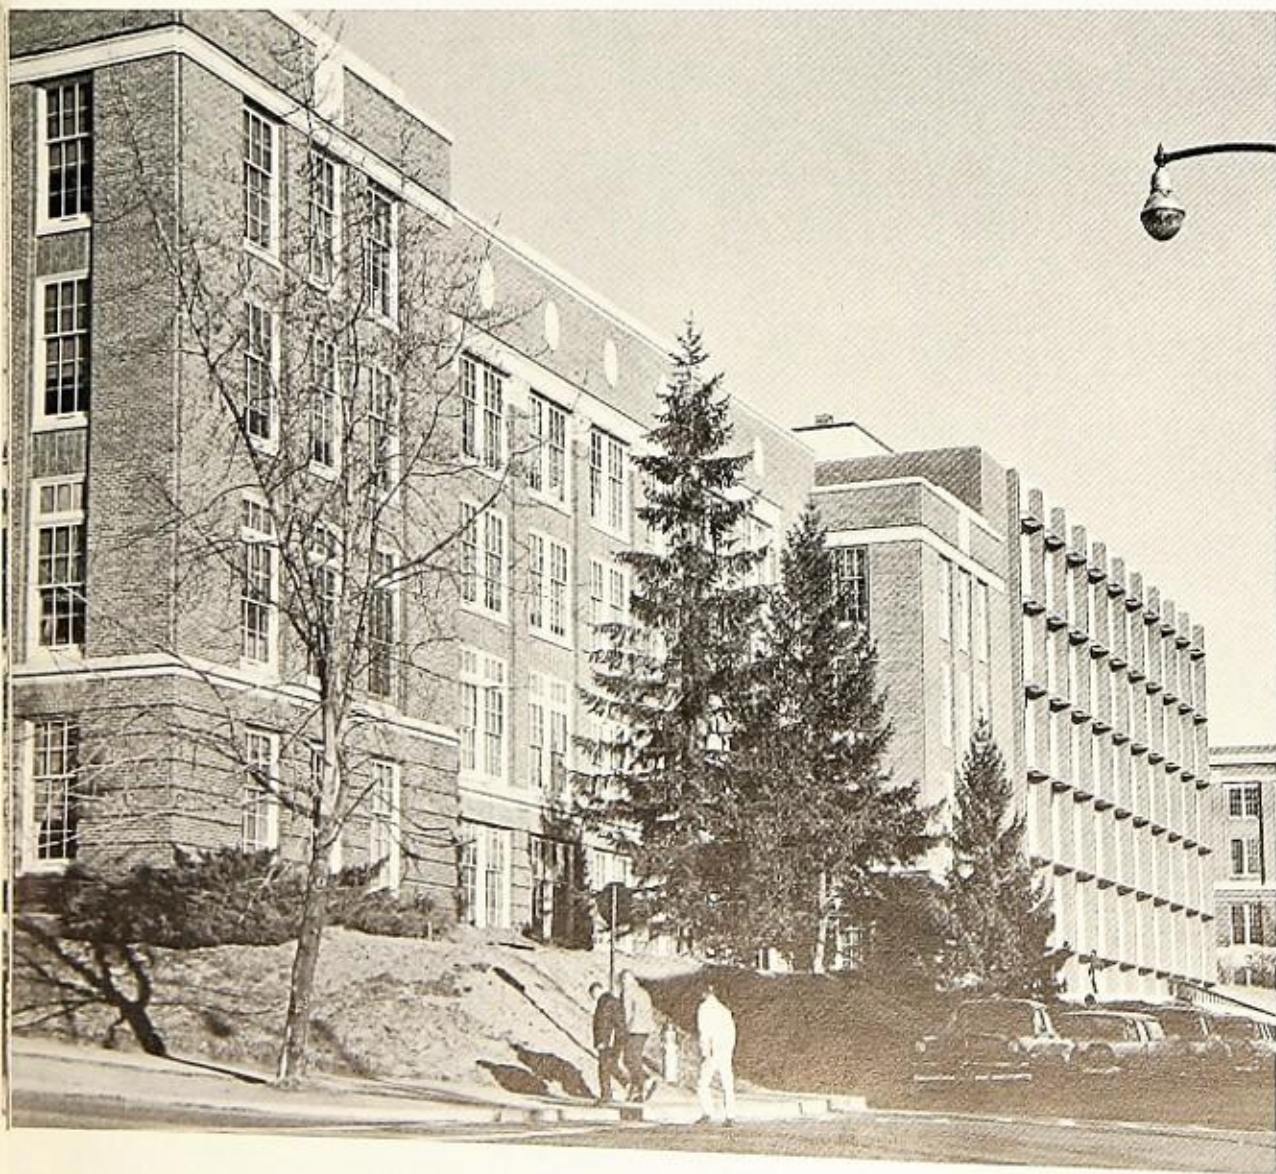

Johnson Hall

One of the newest buildings on campus, the $4,000,000 Johnson Hall, was built from 1959 to 1961. The plant sciences building was designed primarily for research, but students in Agronomy, Agriculture, Horticulture, Mathematics, and Military use the new facilities also.

Named after E. C. Johnson, former dean of the College of Agriculture, it is now the site of many annual and biennial short courses.

Fulmer Hall

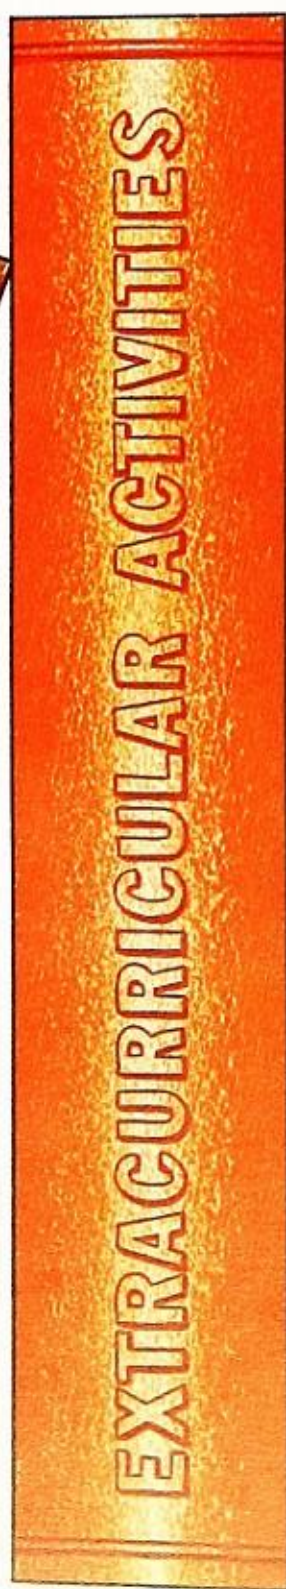

Chemistry students and researchers had new laboratory facilities this year as the $2,500,000 addition to Fulmer Hall was completed.

Originally built in 1935, it was named after Elton Fulmer, former chairman of the Department of Chemistry.

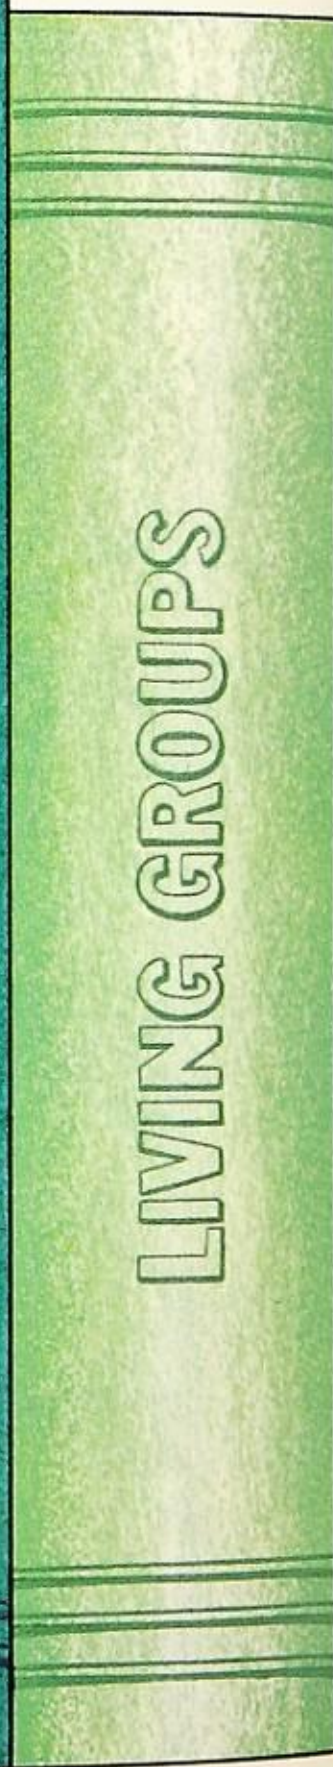

A new auditorium is also part of the addition. It seats about 375 students and is just right for chem lectures.

Walking past Fulmer on a nice spring day, one has no difficulty identifying it as the chemistry building. The aroma which fills the air makes it clear.

Holland Library

As always, Nature Boy contently looked over the campus from his lofty place on Holland Library. Named for E. O. Holland, president from 1916-1925, the $2,750,000 building has a capacity for 1,800 students.

Hometown newspapers on the first floor draw crowds of students daily. Changes this year saw the Humanities library moved to the fourth floor and the first floor converted into additional study desks and offices.

The sleepy and the studious student can be seen any hour of any day using the Libe facilities. In the evening almost every available desk is in use. The students, however, often spend most of their time taking a "break" at the CUB.

Preface

It was Thomas Carlyle who, in the late 1800's wrote that: "The true University of these days is a Collection of Books." We hope and feel that the true university of today encompasses much more than this. Books are, to be sure, an integral part of the university; but there are other factors which we hold as important. The spoken word in a classroom, the philosophical discussions over a cup of coffee, the laughter and gaiety, the heartache and disappointment; all are a part of this college experience. It is our desire to recapture for you some of these moments that make Washington State a true university. We have done this through Carlyle's definitive collection of books.

Governor Rosellini

In this decade, the State of Washington will take immense strides toward realization of its tremendous growth and potential. This potential can never be maintained, unless this state has an outstanding higher education system. To that end, Washington State University must be geared in staff and facilities to provide leadership to meet the challenges such development brings. The people of this state will accept the responsibility to provide support for our educational institutions. They have demonstrated this by providing through legislative appropriations and bond issues in the first five years of this administration nearly $23 million in building funds for Washington State University. This support will insure that the University will play an ever-increasing role in advancing the development of our State and the Northwest.

President French

"Washington State University is approaching its 75th Birthday. During this period of service to all the people of the State of Washington, it has grown steadily in stature and in recognition.

"As part of the general pattern of higher education in this State, Washington State University is taking an increasingly important role in the conduct of upper-level and graduate work. This is consistent with the emerging pattern of higher education in Washington.

"The support which has been given to Washington State University, particularly during the last decade, has made possible rapid advances, both in facilities and in the development of an excellent faculty and staff. With such backing, we have no excuse for not advancing to the level of attainment expected of us by the people of the State of Washington. I am confident that, as we have done well in the past, we will do much better in the years ahead."

The Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects is a professional organization and extension of the national chapter. The group's activities are highlighted by an annual banquet with the parent chapter in Spokane. At meetings, the agenda is planned around a speaker or a movie to orientate members in the various aspects and opportunities of architecture.

AIME

The American Institute of Mining Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers is a national professional society for majors in mining and metallurgy. The prime objective is to sponsor speakers from industry to give the members an idea of what is being done in their field. The chapter participates in the annual engineering open house and holds an annual joint meeting with Idaho.

ROW 1: Irvin G. Sobek, Reinhar Jung, David La France, Glen Tanke, Loren Wills, Tracy Eriksen, Jim Fogg, Ken Hoover, Steve Blomgren, Leroy Fletcher, Don Dodge, Al Verschaeve. ROW 2: Prof. J. E. ASCE

Student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers perform the function of rounding out the college's professional training. They are established to help civil engineering students enrich their college courses by professional contacts and associations. This year the WSU chapter was host for a joint meeting of the University of Idaho's and Spokane section of ASCE.

Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 by Edward Higginson Williams, Jr., to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by high scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering, or by their attainments as alumni in the field of engineering, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America.

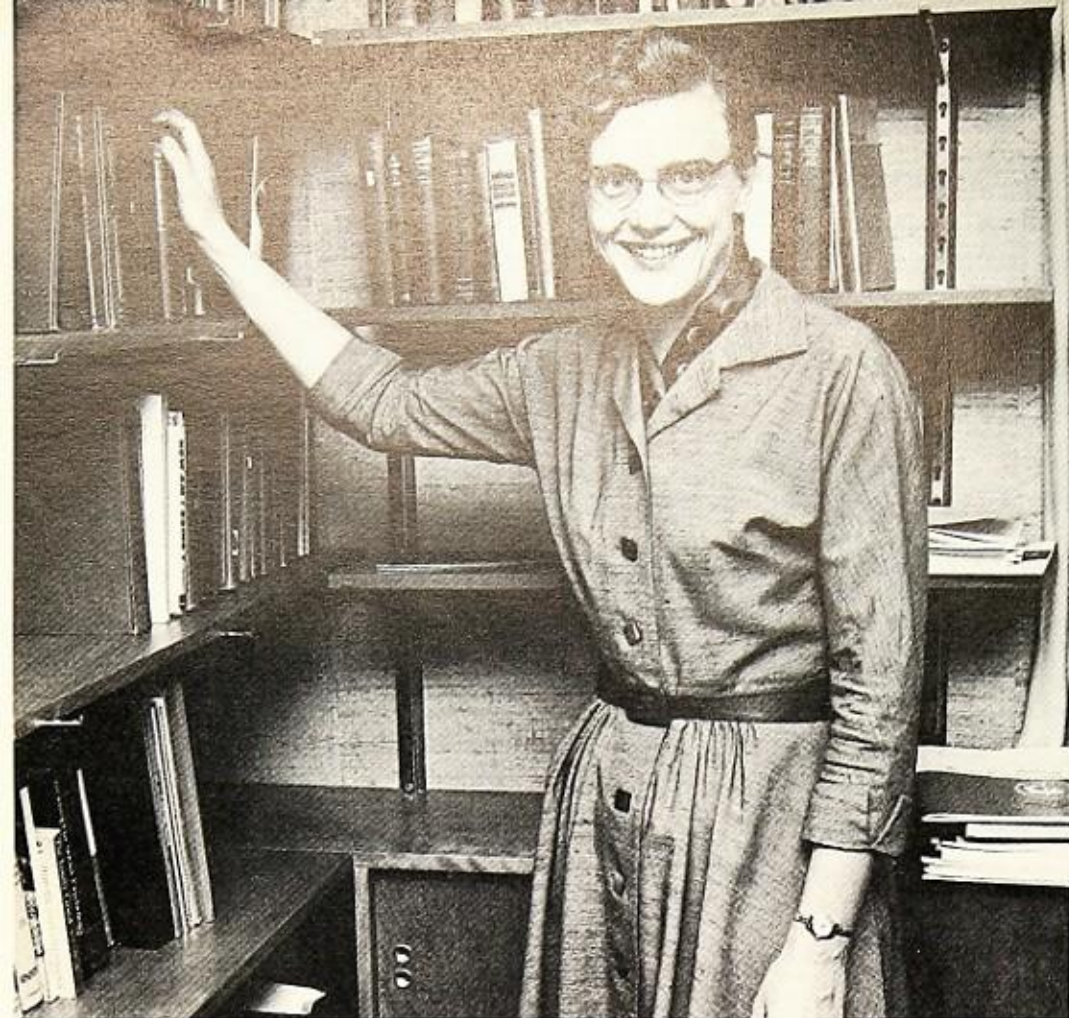

Tau Beta Pi

This year Electrical and Chemical Engineering students and Math students found their classes in this new building, Sloan Hall.

College of Home Economics

The College of Home Economics prepares young people for professional careers. The student studies areas outside the College and has the advantage of a broad education in natural science, social science, and humanities, as well as in home economics. In this way, graduates are able to contribute significantly to the improvement of living conditions through educational programs in child care, health, housing, nutrition and personal and community relations.

College of Economics and Business

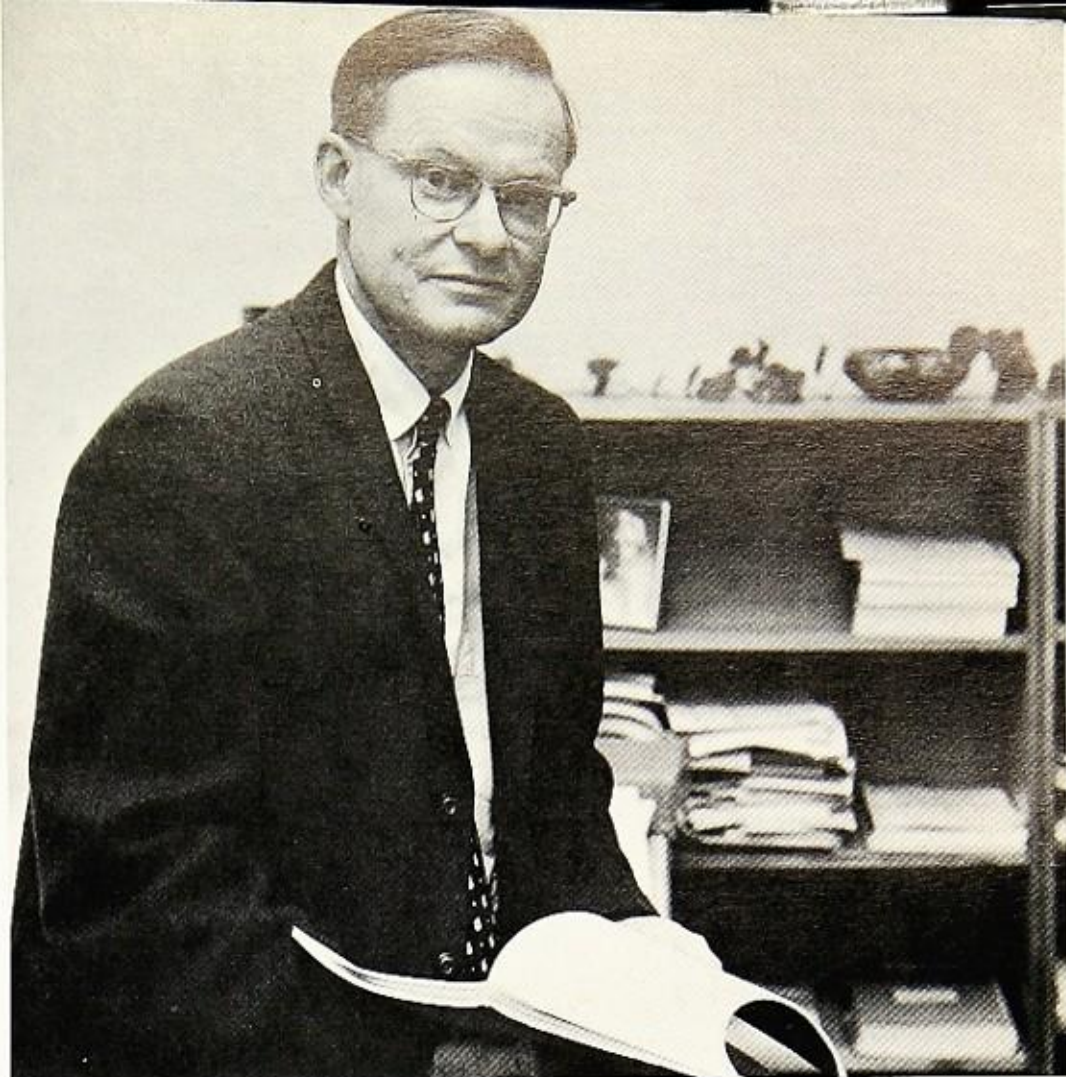

The College of Economics and Business expresses the desire of WSU to meet the needs of vigorous growth of economic activity in the state of Washington and more generally in the Pacific Northwest. Its basic courses are designed to give students an understanding of the chief problems of public policy in economic matters; its complete curricula are planned for students who eventually expect to become business executives or to assume positions of research.

Gamma Theta Upsilon

Geography is basically the study of man in terms of his natural environment. For this reason, geographers have an important role to play in man's attempt to understand himself and his neighbor. Gamma Theta Upsilon provides future geographers with a broader perspective by which they can tie together the facts presented during their university experience.

Cougar P.E. Club

The goals and purposes of our organization are to promote and maintain maximum interest in professional attitudes for all students in health, physical education and recreation, and to stimulate and guide pre-majors. Major activities of the group are High School Athletic Injury Clinic, Annual Majors' Dinner, and the Sports Clinic.

Cougar Swim Club is an organization dedicated to promoting aquatic activities at WSU. It sponsors swimming lessons for children and adults, conducts competitive swimming meets, and publicizes aquatic accomplishments. It also contacts and encourages prospective high school students to attend Washington State.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

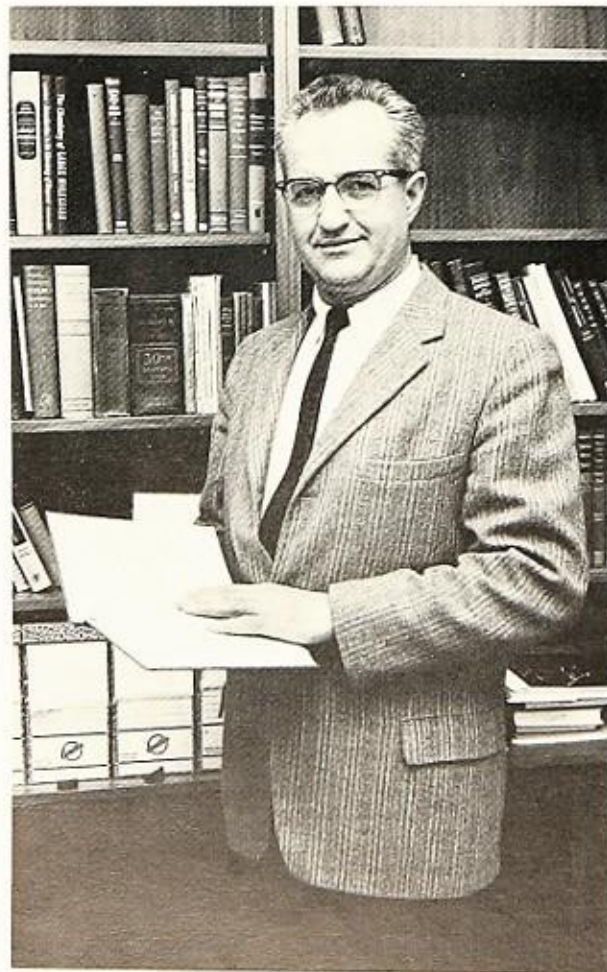

Phi Epsilon Kappa was founded in 1913 at Indianapolis, Indiana. It is a national honorary fraternity for male students and teachers of physical education. Besides inviting leaders in the field to speak, Phi Epsilon Kappa also sponsors the DiGiovanna Memorial Award, which is presented annually to the outstanding senior in physical education.

College of Sciences & Arts

The College of Sciences and Arts contributes to the liberal education of students by basic courses in the humanities, social sciences, and biological and physical sciences. For its majors, it offers preparation for many vocations. It gives basic education for those who will later enter professional schools or undertake graduate work, and offers graduate work in a number of fields. In cooperation with the School of Education, it prepares future teachers.

Alpha Epsilon Rho

Alpha Tau Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho, established in 1957, brings together undergraduates who contribute and prosper in the Radio and Television program at WSU. The chapter sponsors an annual "Radio-TV Day" when broadcasters from throughout the State gather with students to discuss current problems in the industry. This year's topic was "Educational Television."

Richard Kroll, Felix Fabian, Gail Reed, Mel Boston, Joseph E. Zaice, Robert Harvie, Robert Rasmussen.

The goals of Alpha Phi Sigma are to make the police profession and its practitioners more effective; to sponsor research and to disseminate the knowledge so acquired to all members of the profession; to inspire police officers with a just pride in their work; and to reduce crime through the application of accepted scientific practices and techniques to police problems.

Alpha Phi Sigma

Mu Phi - Phi Mu

The main activity of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's music honorary, is the Musicians' Ball, all campus semi-formal dance. Mu Phi Epsilon, national woman's music honorary, awards two scholarships to music majors each year. The purpose of both groups is the advancement of music in America and promotion of scholarship.

Pi Sigma Alpha is the national political science honor society. It aims to be more than a group of chapters devoted to the election of honor students, and strives to be active throughout the academic year. Established in 1939, this year the group has sponsored several coffee hours and open meetings on subjects dealing with political science.

Sigma Kappa Phi

Sigma Kappa Phi is a national honor fraternity for foreign language students. It was organized in 1921 for the purpose of promoting scholarship, knowledge of foreign languages, and fellowship among foreign language students. In addition to its regular business meetings, initiations, and social affairs for its members, Sigma Kappa Phi sponsors speakers of interest to the campus in general, as well as to members of the fraternity.

Theta Sigma Phi

Theta Sigma Phi is a professional fraternity for women in journalism and communications. Activities include producing a campus talent show in the fall. In the spring, Matrix table is held to honor those women who have distinguished themselves in the field of communications and journalism. Tapping is held for new members, and a scholarship and an award are given to outstanding underclassmen.

Lutheran Students Association

The Lutheran Student Association, through fellowship, study, and worship, seeks to stimulate growth in the Christian faith. It encourages students to ask themselves not only what they believe, but why. In accomplishing this, a number of programs were undertaken. Study groups delved into various Christian topics. Activities included retreats to Mt. Hood and Menucha, Christmas candlelight service and senior breakfast.

Newman Club is the Catholic youth organization on the secular campus. It is named after Cardinal Newman, who was very interested in college students. The club's objectives are religious, educational, and social. Biweekly meetings feature local speakers. Social activities include an annual Mom's Day Breakfast and several dances. Membership is open to any Catholic on campus.

Roger Williams Fellowship

The Roger Williams Fellowship endeavors to interpret Christian life in terms of campus and contemporary issues. Special functions include a new student welcome party and a spring banquet. The group met intermittently with the Roger Williams Fellowship from the University of Idaho and participated in the activities of the Baptist Student Movement, both regionally and nationally.

UCCF

The goal of United Campus Christian Fellowship is to provide a center in which Christian ministry can be conducted at WSU. This ministry includes providing a framework for Christian experience, offering discussions relevant to everyday lives and of a controversial nature, and providing the opportunity for fellowship and participation in UCCF activities.

Athletic Council

STAN BATES,
director of athletics,
enroute to Indiana football game.

The intercollegiate athletic program at WSU touches practically every one of the institution's students — athlete or not! Although several hundred students actually take part in the intercollegiate athletic program as members of one of the 10 Cougar teams in Varsity competition, or on one of 8 Freshman squads, this number is small compared with the thousands of students involved in activities that have come to be the spirit of the athletic program as the teams are its heart. WSU's great Marching Band, the Rally Committee, Yell Squad, Pep Band, Cougar Boosters, the Crimson Block — these and many other groups are vital to the overall athletic program at WSU. Perhaps it is the very nature of the institution that brings athletics closer to the individual student here at WSU. Such a large percentage of WSU students actually live on campus, in university-owned residence halls or in fraternities or sororities, that they become living, working parts of all the activities — and intercollegiate athletics is one of their favorites.

Football

Jim Sutherland's Cougars came just five points away from a successful season in 1961. That might be a little tough to understand looking at WSU's 3-7 record over the season, but anyone who witnessed the 17-21 loss to Washington in the final game of the year will back it up. Had the Cougars held their 17-15 lead through those final few minutes, all six previous losses would have gone up in one delirious roar. In a magnificent football game in Seattle played before a sellout crowd of nearly 50,000 and televised to millions more throughout the west, the Cougars missed by less than a single touchdown of scoring one of the season's great upsets.

Head coach Jim Sutherland watches the Cougar's defense, and at the same time mentally runs through the Coug's next offensive drive.

Sideline tension shows on Suds' face as he follows an Oregon runner. Coach Blair reports the news to him as it comes over the walkie-talkie.

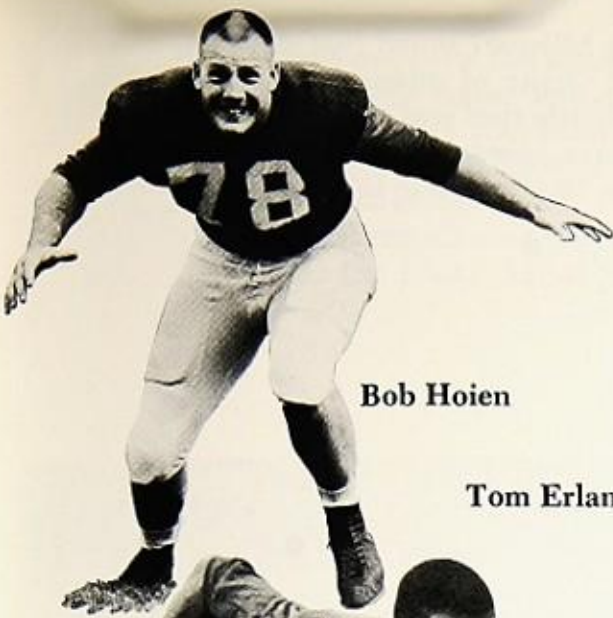

A perfect tackle by an alert Cougar on the field brings smiles to the faces of coach and players.

Washington State ran into the toughest schedule in years — perhaps in its football history — last fall. The Cougars met, on successive Saturday afternoons to start the season, Missouri, Utah State, and Texas, each of whom was ranked in the top ten at one time or another during the year. Both Utah State and Texas played in post-season Bowl games. At the turning point of the season, with seven games gone beyond recall, Washington State started a comeback that fell just five points of being complete and perfect. A ferocious Cougar nipped heavily favored Oregon 22-21 in the Homecoming game on Rogers Field and the following week rolled easily over Stanford 30-0 at Palo Alto. The Washington contest saw 14 seniors play their last game in Crimson and Grey.

Missouri 28 WSU 6

The Cougars opened the season against virtually the same Missouri squad that downed powerful Navy in the 1960 Orange Bowl. WSU was the victim of offensive mistakes as it dropped a 28-6 decision to the Columbia school in a battle that was actually closer than the score would indicate. The Cougars held Missouri's vaunted ground game to 164 yards in 56 carries, but the Pullman eleven gave up the ball four times on pass interceptions and lost three fumbles to the Tigers.

Halfback John Browne (44) is brought down by the Tiger safety man after a nine yard scam around left end.

WSU linebackers sew up the middle on a Missouri ground play. Defending Cougars are Larry Reisbig (85), Harold Haddock (39), Gery Gehrmann (77) and Ron Langhans (84).

Spokane fans saw the Cougs make a fight out of it for three quarters against Utah State, but the huge Aggie line simply proved too much for the Palouse eleven. Utah State drove to a quick touchdown as the game got underway but the Cougars came back and made it 7-7 at the halfway mark. The third period saw fumble after fumble in a see-saw battle that ended 14-13, Cougars. From here WSU literally fell apart and Utah State pushed them all over the field until the final gun. Net yardage for the contest was 184 against the Utags' 321.

Utah State 34
WSU 14

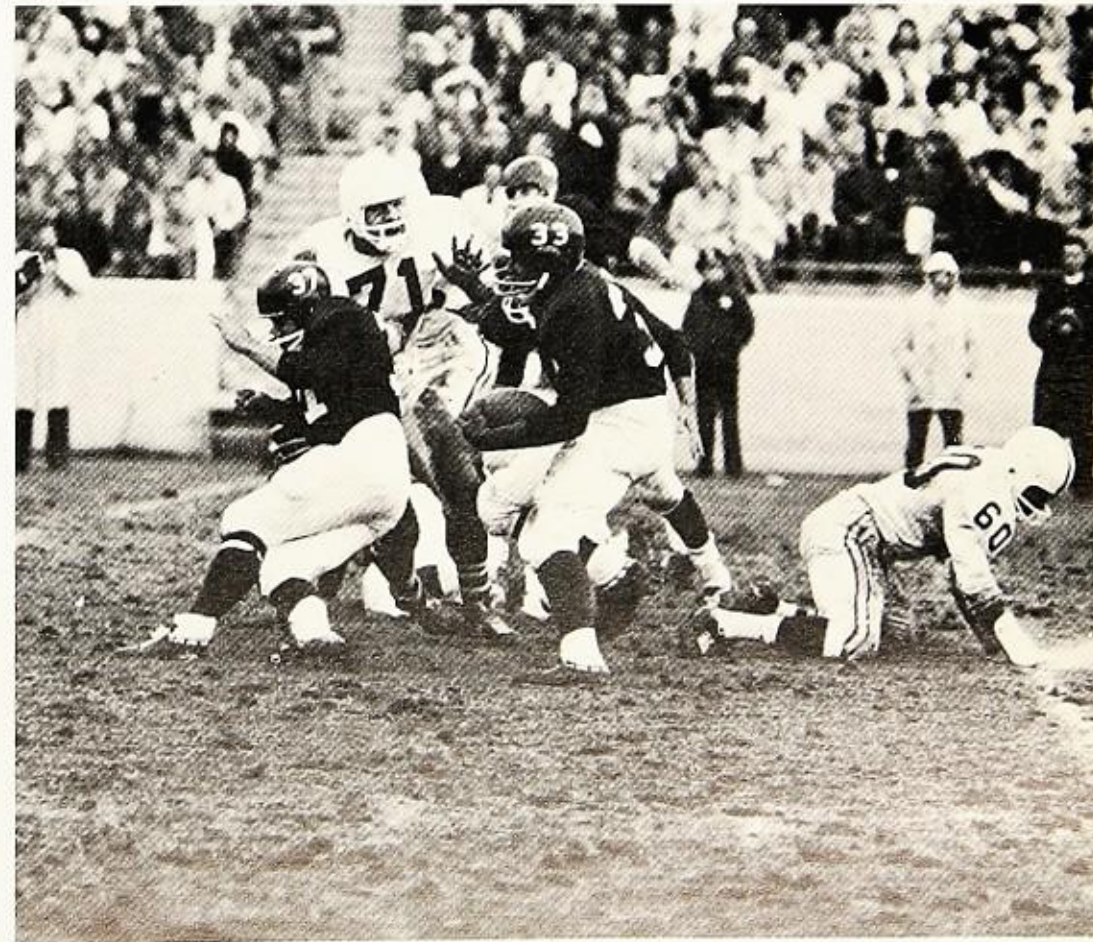

Quarterback Mel Melin (24) seems to see an opening in Utah State's defense right half as Jim Boylan (26) awaits the "go" signal.

After outmaneuvering quarterback Mel Montablo (18), right half Pete Schenk (32) becomes airborne to snag a pass within striking range of the Utah State end zone.

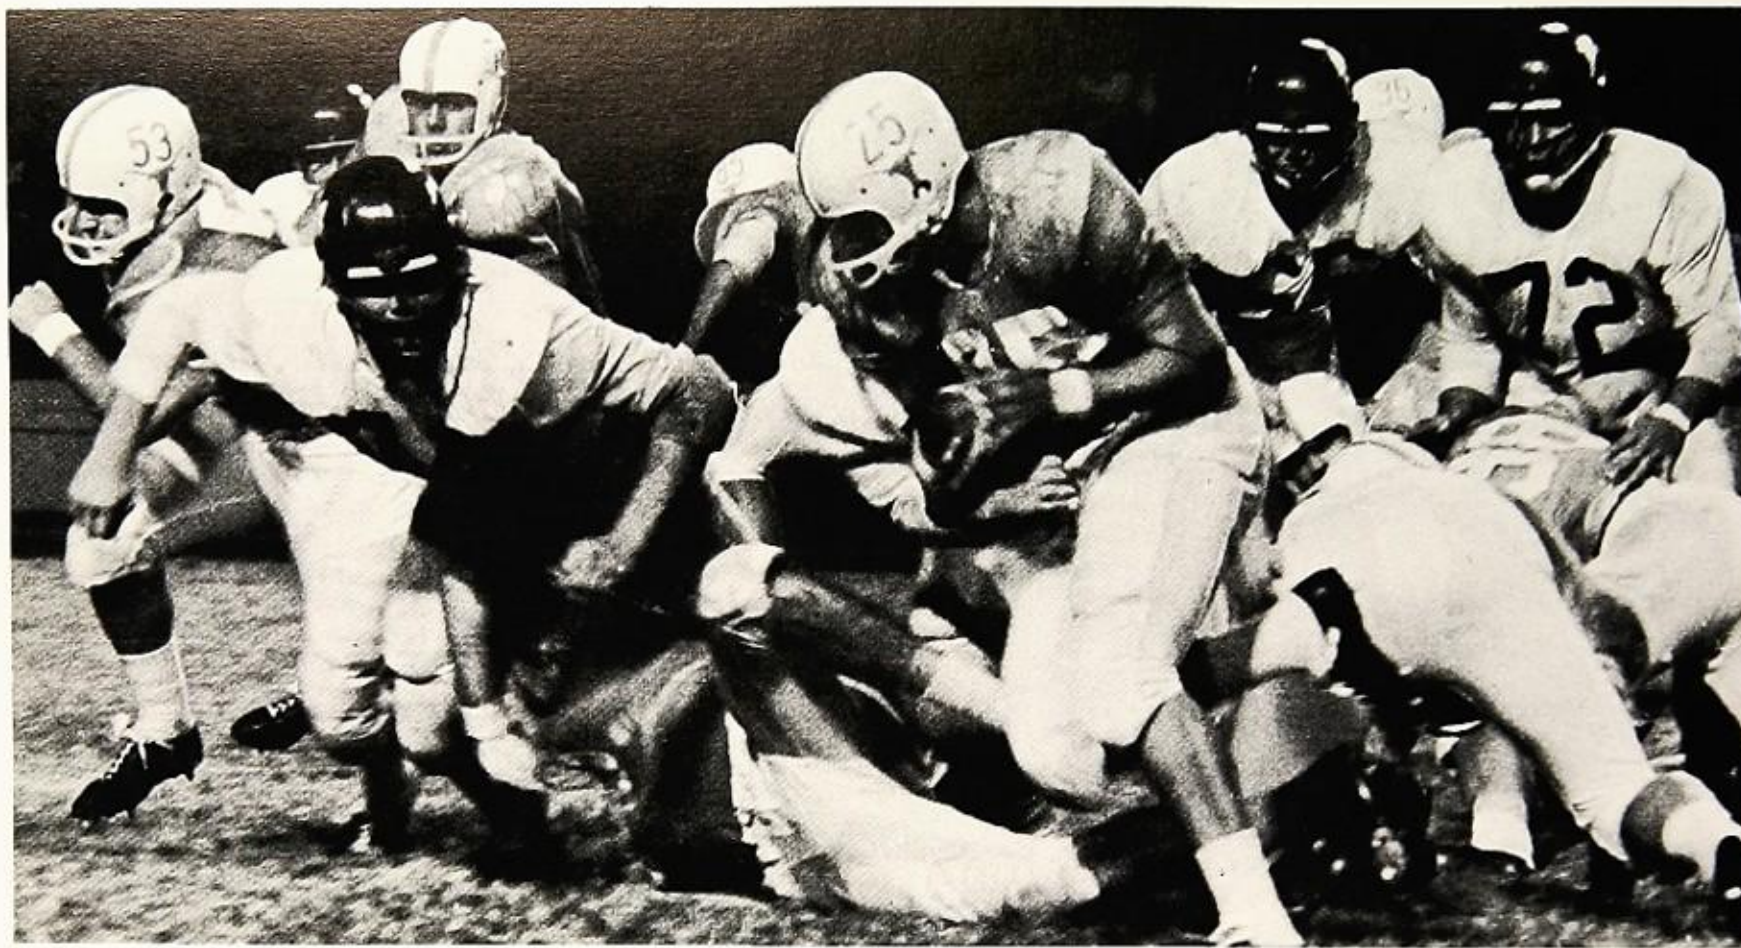

Quarterback Mel Melin isn't posing for a photographer as it might appear. Instead he is about to pull the trigger and let fly a forward pass to halfback John Browne in the flat.

Although Aggie guard Willie Redman (60) is occupied with his own personal soil conservation study, ball carrier Ken Graham (33) is still wary of running left as he peaks around blocker Jerry Campbell (37), who tries to hold off All-American tackle Merlin Olsen (71).

Texas 41 WSU 8

If there ever was a mis-match in WSU grid play, this was it. The Texas Longhorns, dominating the number one position in football pools for a good part of the season, never let up as they powered over the reluctant Cougars for a 41-8 win. Washington State's third bowl opponent in as many games, Texas used All-American candidate Jim Saxton to instigate and a superior front line to protect its endless scoring. The only thing left for Pullman listeners to root about was the Mel Melin to Hugh Campbell combination, which clicked per usual in contributing to 200 yards through the air compared to the hosts' 175 airmail yards.

Washington State tackle Glenn Baler (74), with his mouth wide open, dives to halt Longhorn reserve halfback Derrell Oliver (25). Two WSU defenders, John Wyffels (72) and Lorin Christean (65), are trapped behind a stacked-up mass of players.

Harold Haddock (39) pulls down All-American Jim Saxton (10) after a 14-yard sprint by the Texas halfback.

Finally the Cougars had the chance to give another team the same treatment they had been receiving and they did — 34-0 — against their interstate rivals from the University of Idaho. The Cougs unleashed a potent ground attack and rolled over the Vandals, taking the annual battle of the Palouse before 19,432 Dad's Day spectators. WSU kept the ball on the ground although the weather was perfect for a concentrated aerial barrage. Fullbacks George Reed and Lou Blakely did much of the running as the Suds-men gained 391 yards on the ground and 116 in the air. Idaho managed only 213 net yards in 70 plays, one less than the Cougar's 71.

Hugh Campbell (86) throws a block for Graham (33) as the tricky sophomore outraces Idaho's Mike Bauman (61).

Harold Haddock (39) boots the Cougs out of trouble as John Browne (44) moves across to block out Vandal Zeke Urko (73).

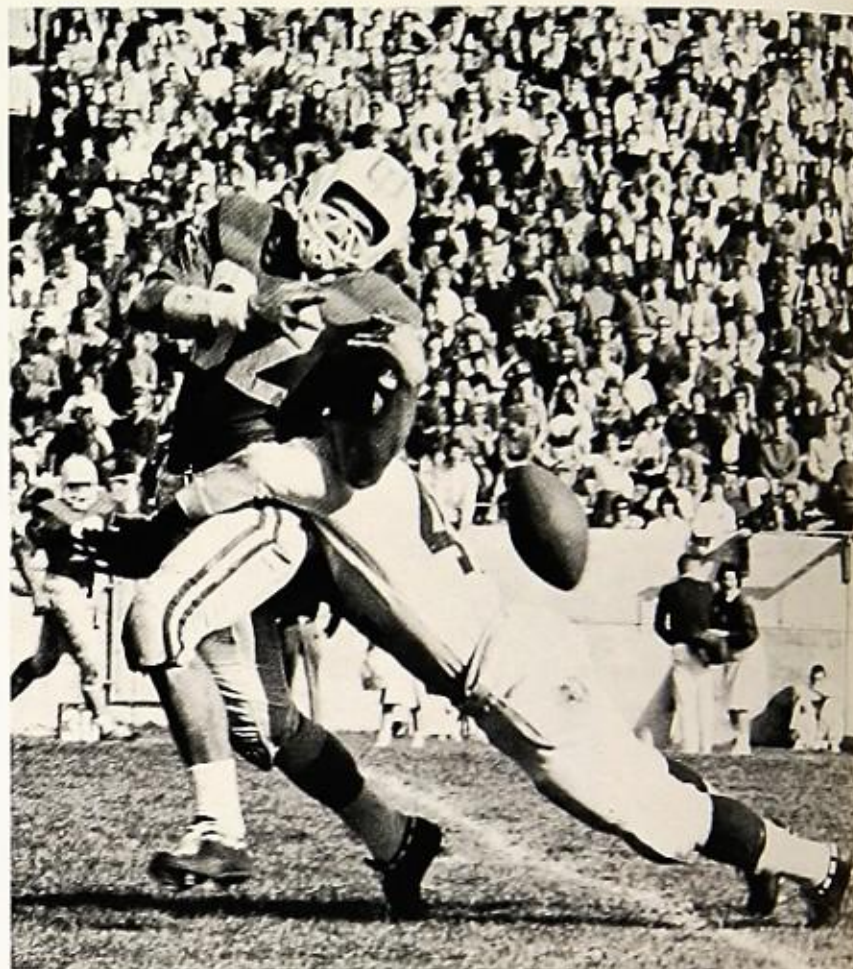

Indiana 33 WSU 7

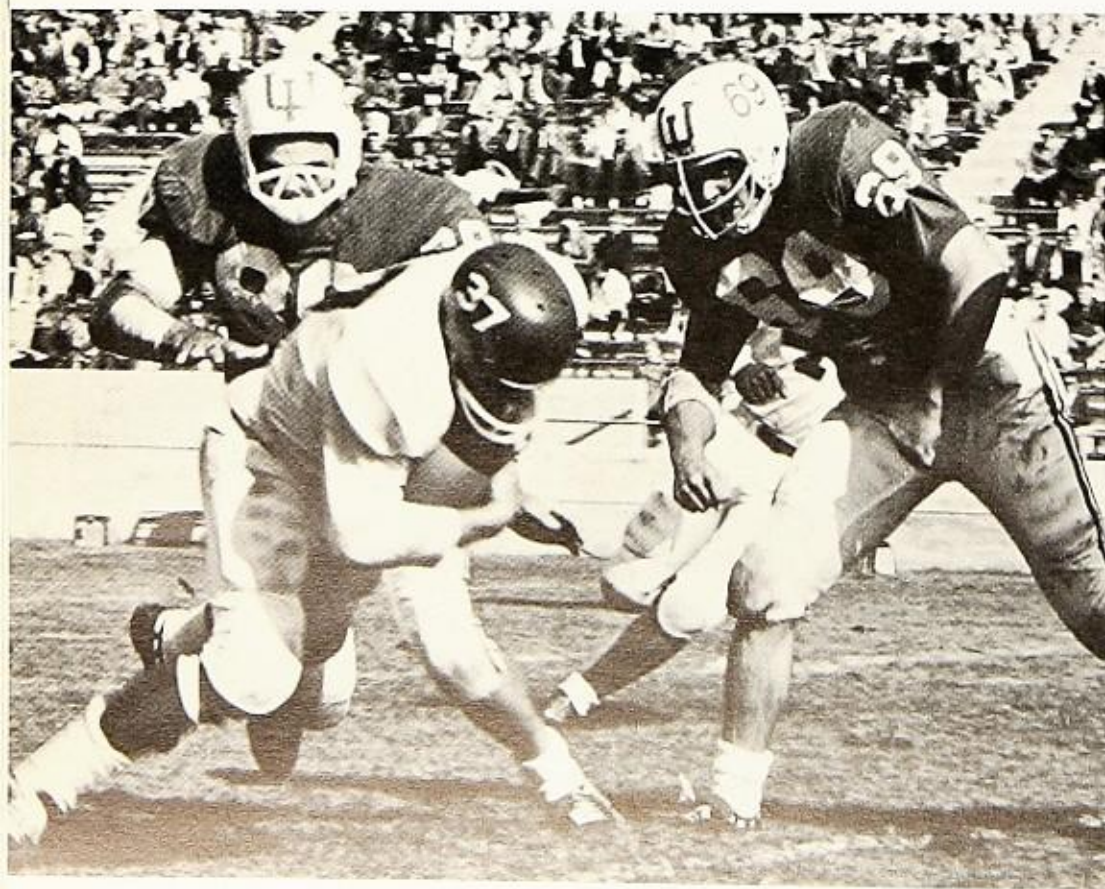

A trip to Bloomington, Indiana and a game against the University of Indiana Hoosiers proved fruitless for the Cougars in their fourth outing. Playing three-quarter ball again, the Cougs found something missing in the final stanza as the Hoosiers added 19 points to their 14-7 half-time lead. Indiana's first victory in ten starts did not only leave the Cougars hurt morale-wise, but injuries took a major toll among Sutherland's ranks. Harvey West and John Wyffels suffered injuries which affected them the rest of the season. Harold Haddock and Jim Jensen had to be carried off the field, and Hugh Campbell developed a limp late in the tilt.

WSU's Ken Graham (33) dives over for the first score of the Indiana tilt. Hoosiers Don Cromer (32) and Tom Trainer (82) are late as Cougar tackle John Wyffels (72) sets the key block.

George Reed (42), in as defensive back, jars a pass away from Trainer (82). The Cougars held Indiana's air game to 51 yards, even though the weather was perfect for throwing.

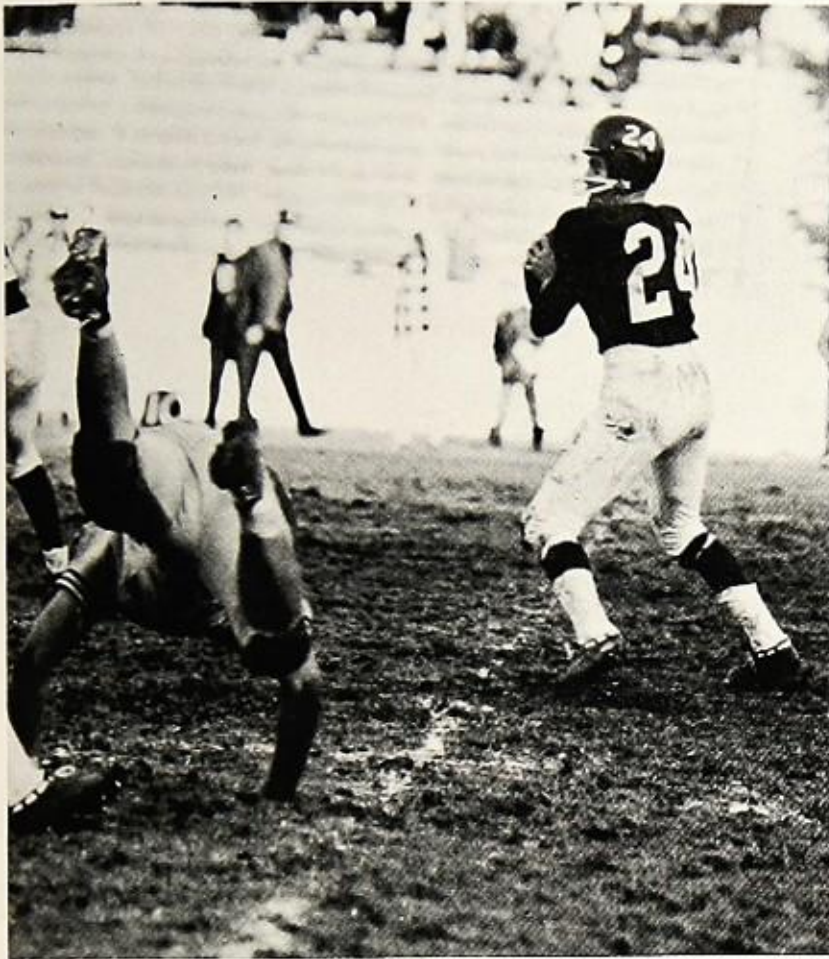

Things weren't rosie very long for the Sudsmen. In this second quarter play Dave Kerrone (37) was trapped by Hoosier linemen Dick Wervey (88) and Mike Wasdovich (69).

Ten meets ten, as Indiana guard Larry Coleman (65) drops quarter-back Dave Mathieson (10) after a fumble on the Cougar ten yard line.

Whether it was uncertainty on the Cougar's part left by the Indiana loss or San Jose's performance, WSU couldn't move after powering to a 13-0 halftime lead over the Spartans. San Jose State's national offensive leader, Chon Gallegos, came back passing and scored two touchdowns in the third quarter to take the lead which they never relinquished. The Spartans took a deflected Cougar pass in for their third tally early in the fourth period, and Washington State halfback Ken Graham went 91 yards for a touchdown on the kickoff return. Melin tried for the two-pointer with a pass that was no good, and two other scoring attempts by the Cougars were foiled.

The ball is handed off to half Jerry Campbell (35) in a power play led by Mel Melin (24), Lorin Christean (65) and Lou Blakely (45).

Oregon State 14 WSU 6

Despite the 14-6 loss to the Oregon State Beavers, this contest was considered by Coach Sutherland as a comeback game for the Cougars. Dave Mathieson relieved Mel Melin at the field general spot as the first half ended, and led the Cougs as they barely fell short of overcoming OSU's 14-0 halftime lead. Mathieson completed 16 of 28 passes for a .567 average but bad breaks plagued Washington State throughout the contest. Once Mathieson passed to Hugh Campbell who took it on the Orange 28 and skittered down the sideline into the end zone, only to have the play called back because of clipping.

George Reed (42) plows through a gap in the Beaver line in the third period.

Cougar tackle Mike Martin (71) upends slot-back Terry Baker of Oregon State in this rush.

Lorin Christean (65) put the stoppers on this ground play. Coming up from behind are Pat Crook (60) and Jim Jensen (70).

"Just too many Cougars" is what Baker is probably saying to himself as Jim Boylan (26), George Reed (42), Ron Langhans (84), Glenn Baker (74) and Harold Haddock (39) close in.

Dave Mathieson, given the nod as quarterback, fulfilled his job perfectly in retaining the spirit generated the Saturday before at Corvallis. All eyes were on George Reed and Grey to a 22-21 Homecoming triumph over the Oregon Ducks. The Ducks came to Pullman heralded as the West's strongest squad, but the Butchmen contained sensational Oregon sophomore Mel Renfro and in doing so emerged victoriously.

Mathieson (10) hands off to Reed (42) and he follows Browne (44) through the middle.

WSU 30 Stanford 0

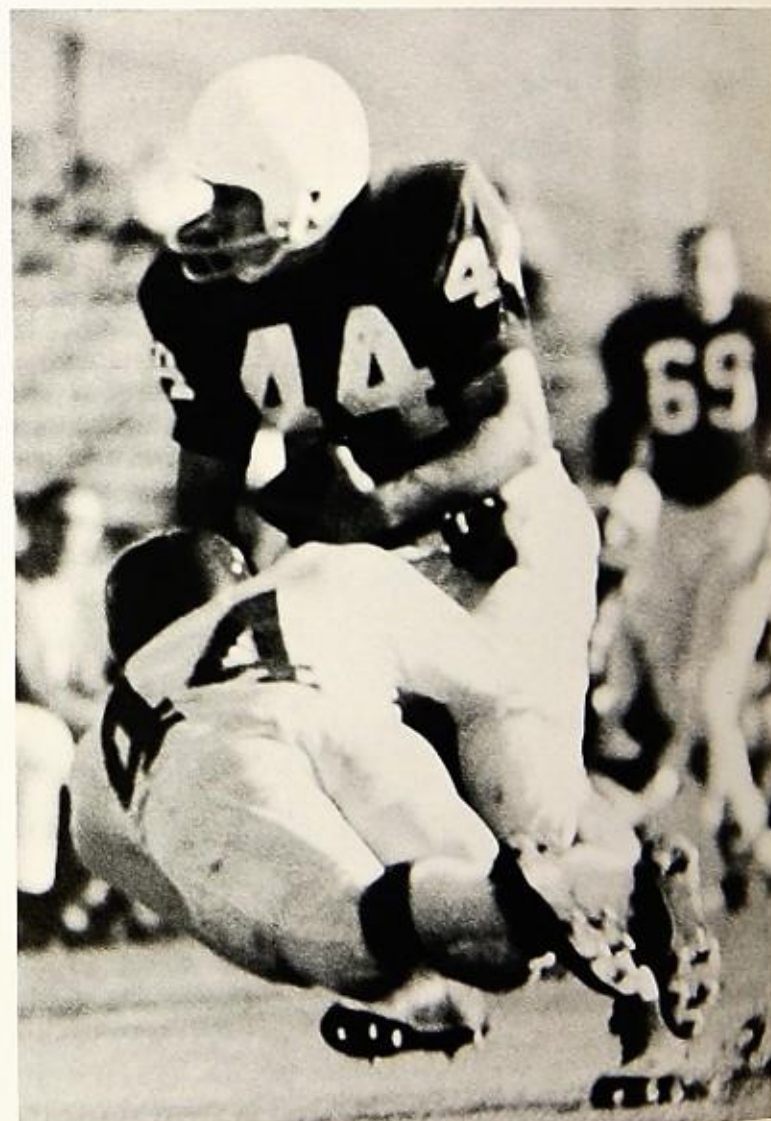

Getting a sweet quarterbacking job from Mel Melin, Washington State scored at least once in every quarter enroute to its fifth straight victory over favored Stanford. The same week Melin was selected as the number six draft choice of the New York Titans. Cougar imports from the sunny state had a field-day before the California crowd. It was left for John Browne to produce the game's most thrilling play, a 70-yard touchdown run on which he shook loose after apparently being trapped behind the line of scrimmage by an Indian rusher.

Cougar halfback John Browne is upended as he runs into some "Cactus Jack" strategy. Jerry Campbell (35) move over for the stop, but it was Leroy Babbitt who finally brought the runner down.

Indian ball carrier Ken Babajian (44) fumbled after Pat Crook (60) and John Browne (44) shared tackling honors.

If there is one number Babajian won't forget — it's 44. Besides sporting it himself, he knew by game's end that WSU had a 44 — John Browne.

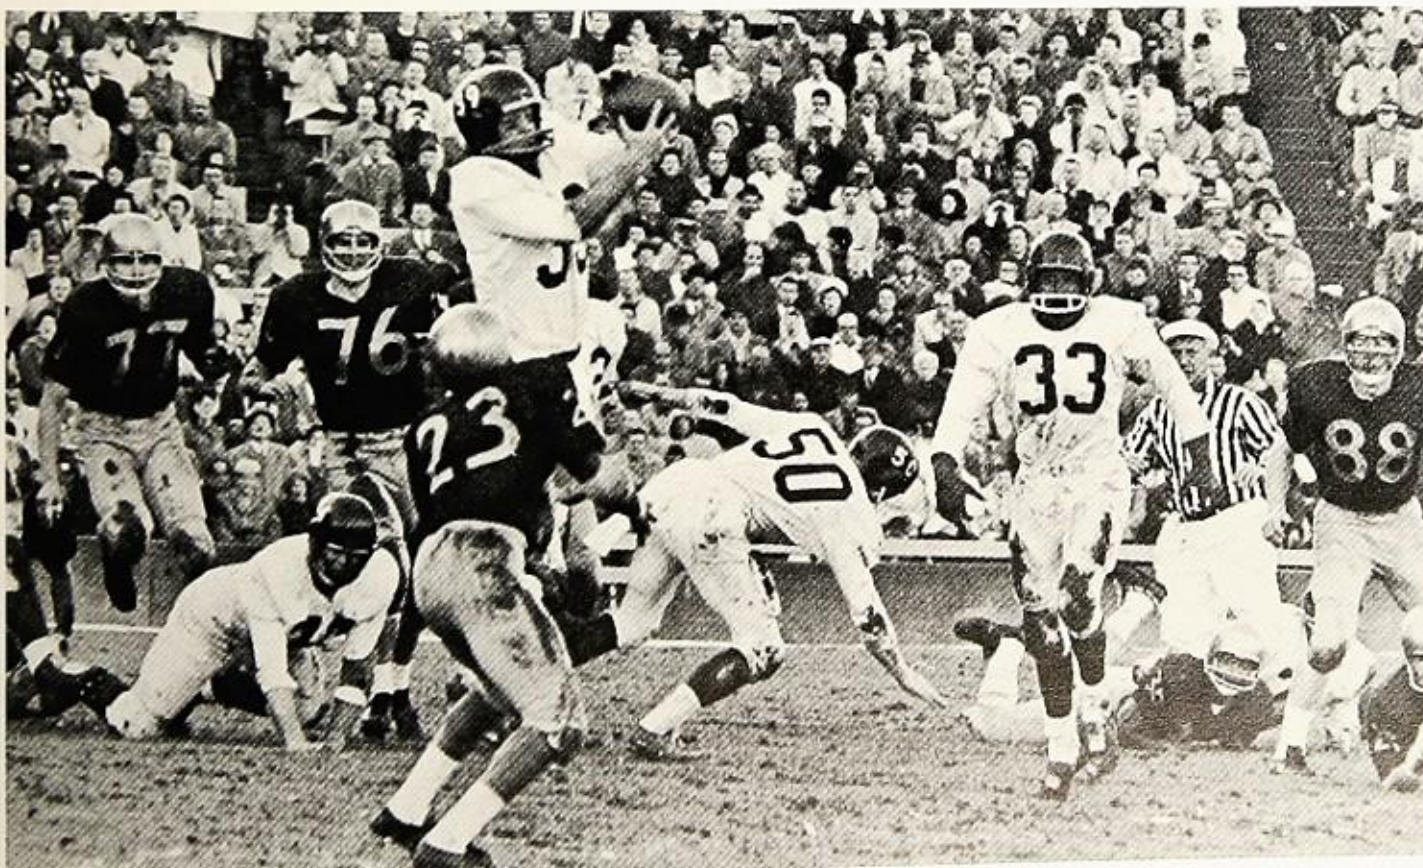

With both teams up for this one, the Cougar-Husky clash in Seattle gave mentors Jim Sutherland and Jim Owens each his share of butterflies before the final gun. A NCAA regional television audience and 55,000 fans saw the lead change hands throughout the spirited cross-state battle. Place kicking almost made the difference as WSU led with two minutes remaining in the game. Then Washington's Charlie Mitchell skirted right end for 26 yards and the final score. Hugh Campbell drew individual honors as he set a new national all-time three-year receiving record of 119 catches in his final game as a junior.

Basketball

The 1961-62 basketball season was bitterly disappointing for Coach Marv Harshman and his WSU Cougars. Part of that disappointment stemmed from the fact that the Cougars — players and coach — thought preseason that they would do quite well this year. And, it was poor shooting as much as anything that helped the Cougars down the road to a lackluster 8-18 season. Previewing the season, the Coach had felt that shooting would be one of the '62 squad's strengths. As disappointing as the past campaign was to Coach Harshman, it was even more painful to seven graduating seniors, five of whom had played together at WSU through their entire careers. This was the club that as Frosh in 1958-59 compiled a 13-2 record. As sophomores, however, they posted a 13-13 mark; fell to 10-16 as juniors, and were 8-18 in their senior season. Two graduating seniors on this year's squad will be remembered for some time in Cougar record books. Forward Charlie Sells, at 6'6", one of the greatest jumpers ever to play at WSU, established both single season and career rebounding records. Sells, who hails from Seattle, grabbed 286 rebounds this year to erase the season mark of 285 by John Maras, and his three-year total of 827 topped Maras' 1958-60 record of 808. Terry Ball, the sharpshooting, playmaking guard from Seattle's Ballard District, put himself into the Cougar books as the third most prolific scorer in history. Ball racked up 1169 points over three seasons and ranks third in all-time scoring here behind Larry Beck, 1925, and Ron Bennink, 1927.

Coach Marv Harshman eyes a referee after a questionable call.

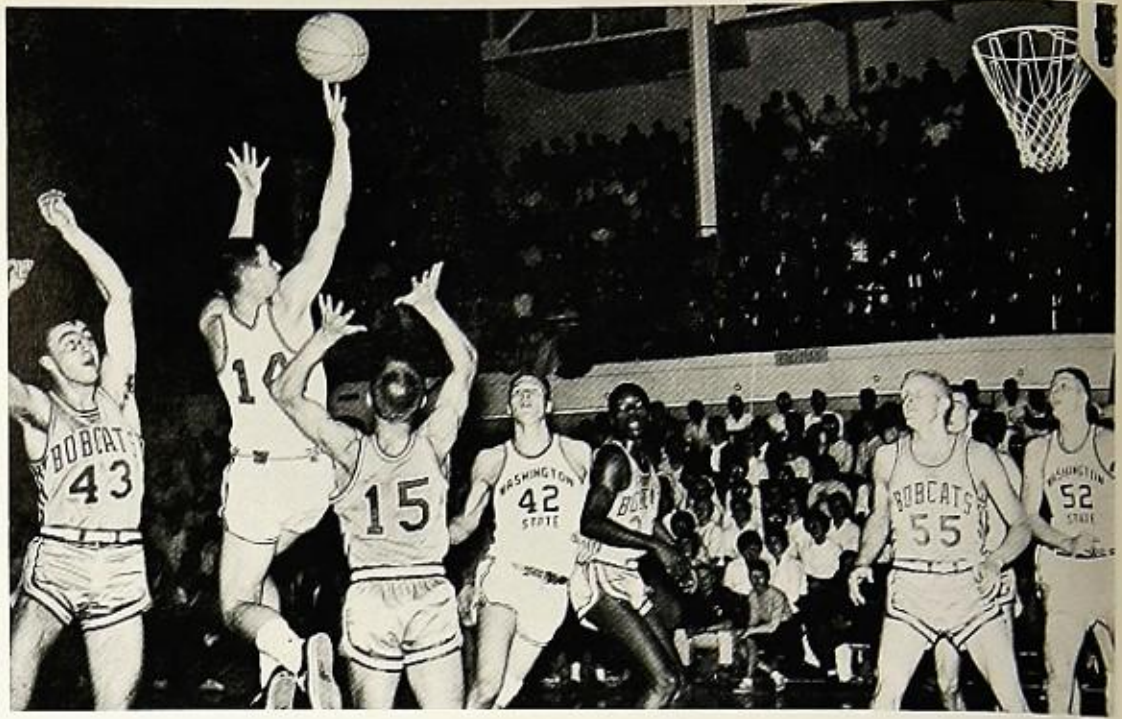

"Git over there, Ball" yells Harshman as frosh coach Chuck Brayton looks on.

"I told him so" thinks Marv after the Cougs are scored upon.

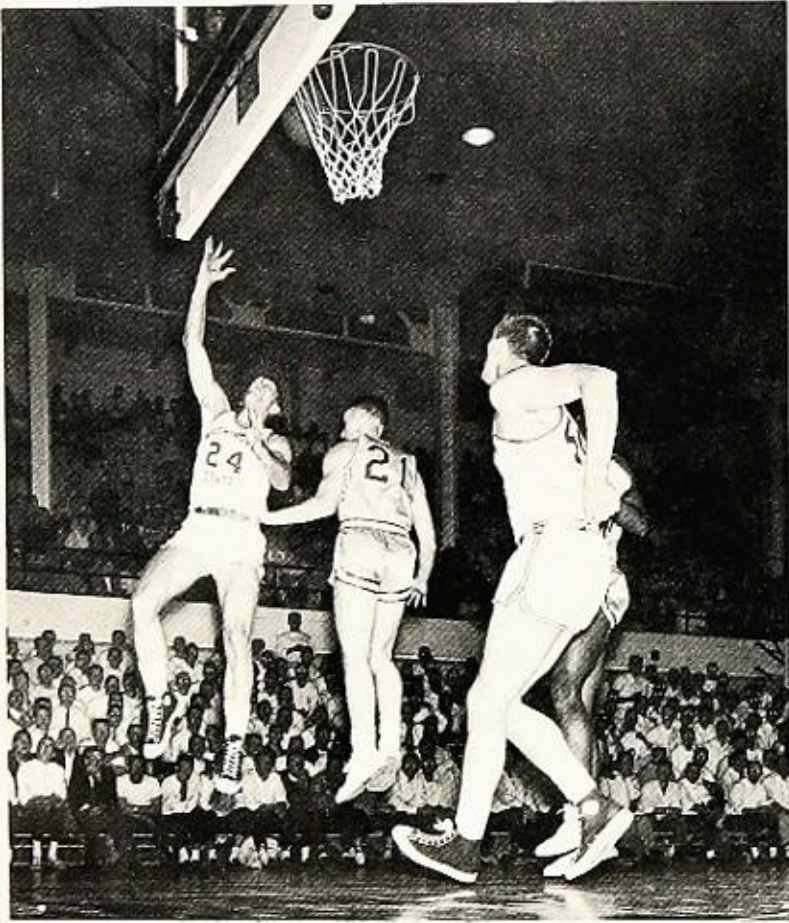

WSU 58 62

The Cougars and the Bobcats exchanged pleasantries this year — and made the home folks happy. This is to say that Washington State and Montana State College split a two-game series, each winning on its home court. Charlie Sells led WSU in scoring in the 58-59 loss at Bozeman, and Terry Ball led the Cougars to a 62-55 victory at Pullman with 17 counters.

High scoring guard Terry Ball pumps in a two pointer against Montana State.

Ernie Woods combines a lay-in with flying competition as Neil Dirom looks on.

WSU 74 61
Gonzaga 73 74

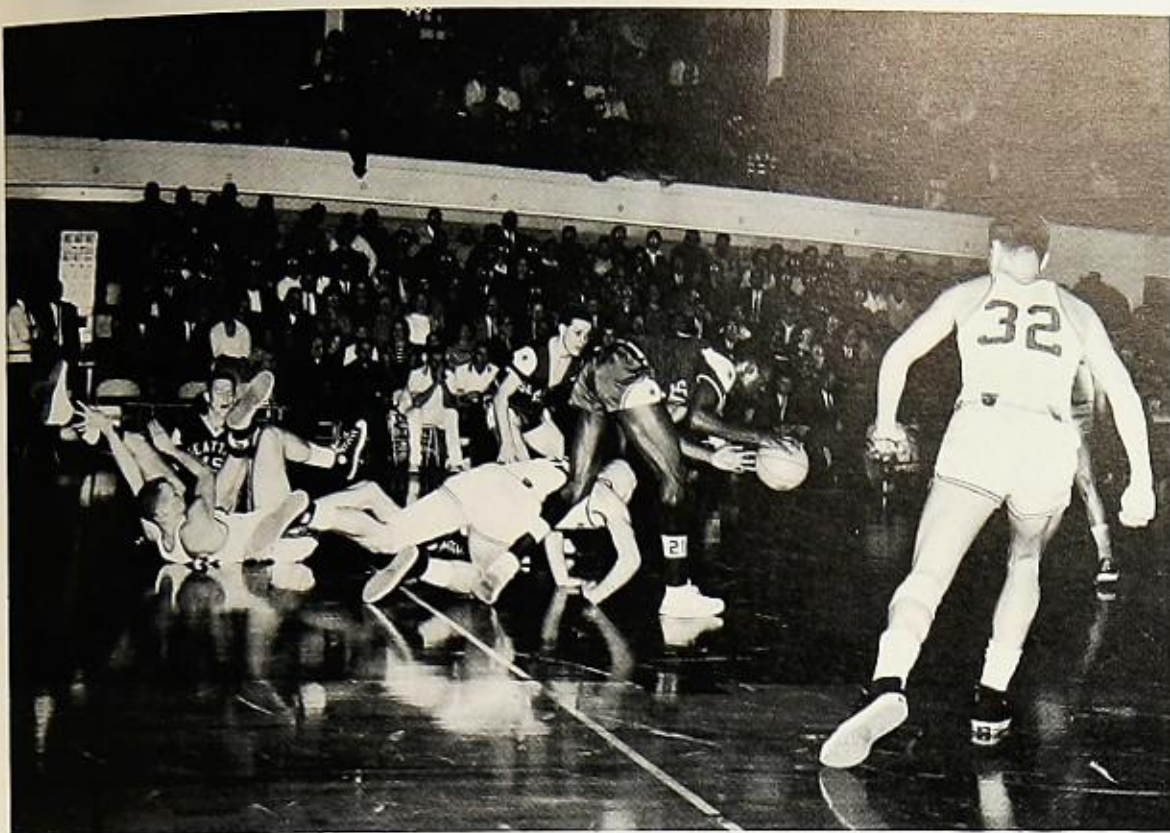

Gonzaga finally broke the Cougar jinx in Spokane's Memorial Coliseum and got an even split in the two-game series with WSU this year. The Cougars got out in front by virtue of a 73-74 overtime victory at Pullman, but the Zags won 74-61 at Spokane in the return game. It was the first loss ever suffered by a Harshman-coached WSU team in Spokane.

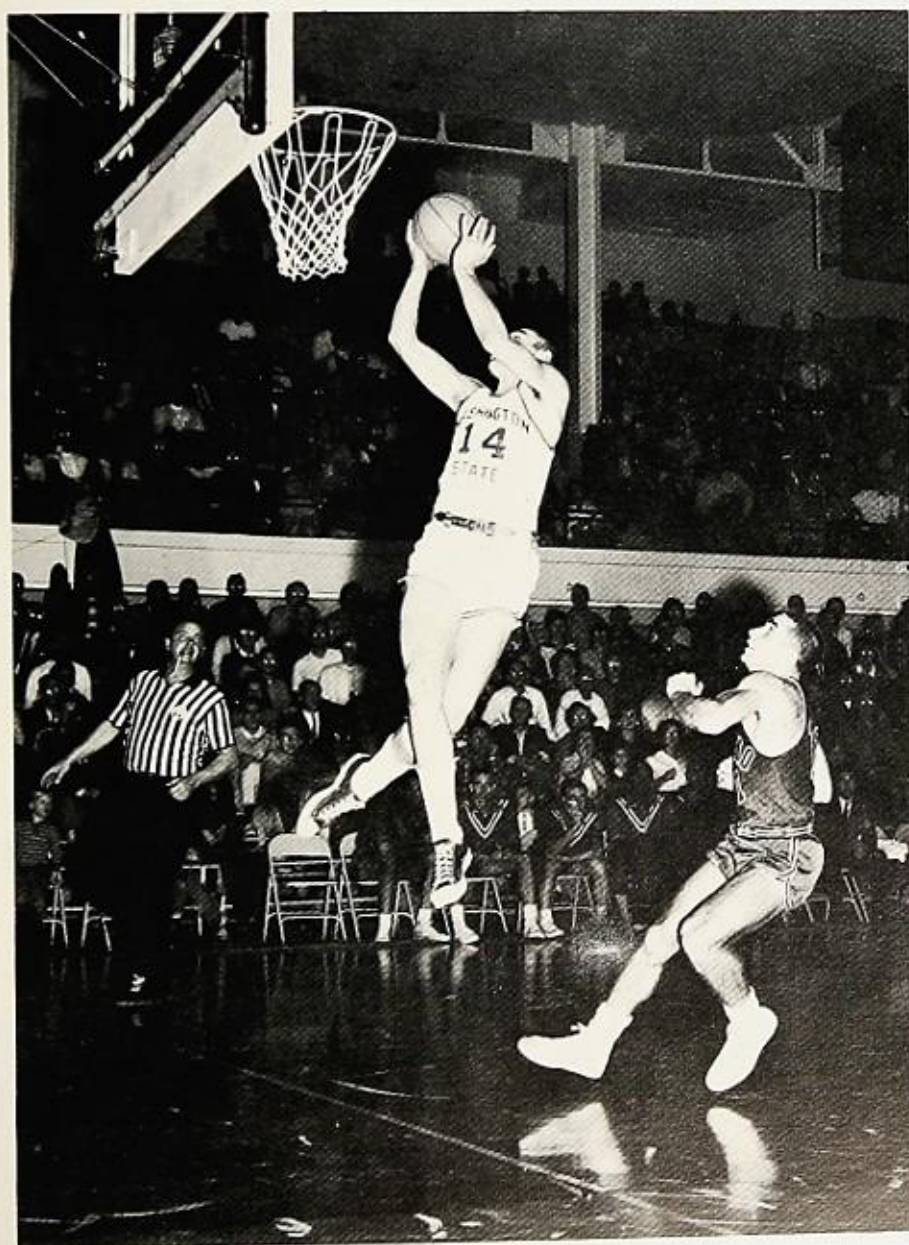

Charlie Sells pops one up as hapless Bobcats look on. Both Sells and Ball were drafted by St. Louis of the NBA at season's end.

Dwight Damon seems to be sticking his tongue out at the ref as he bulls in the ball.

The Cougars got the worst of this scramble as Seattle's Eddie Miles recovers the roundball. Charlie Sells, left, and Allan Thompson both ended up on the floor.

Terry Ball contributes two points on a fast-break in a winning effort against Fresno State.

WSU 68 74
Seattle 73 98

Seattle U proved to be one of the better basketball teams that Washington State faced this Winter, although the Cougars gave the Chieftains a real run at Pullman before succumbing 68-73. In the return match in Seattle, the Chieftains put on a red-hot shooting exhibition and ran away from the Cougars 98-74.

WSU 69 72
Fresno St. 64 81

The Cougars and Fresno State showed a complete reversal of form in their two-game series at Pullman just before Christmas. WSU took the first game easily, despite the relatively close 69-64 score, and the Bulldogs made it look just as simple in beating WSU 81-72 the following evening. Charlie Sells and Neil Cirom shared scoring honors with 15 apiece in the Cougar win, and guard, Terry Ball, got 20 in a losing cause for WSU in the second tilt.

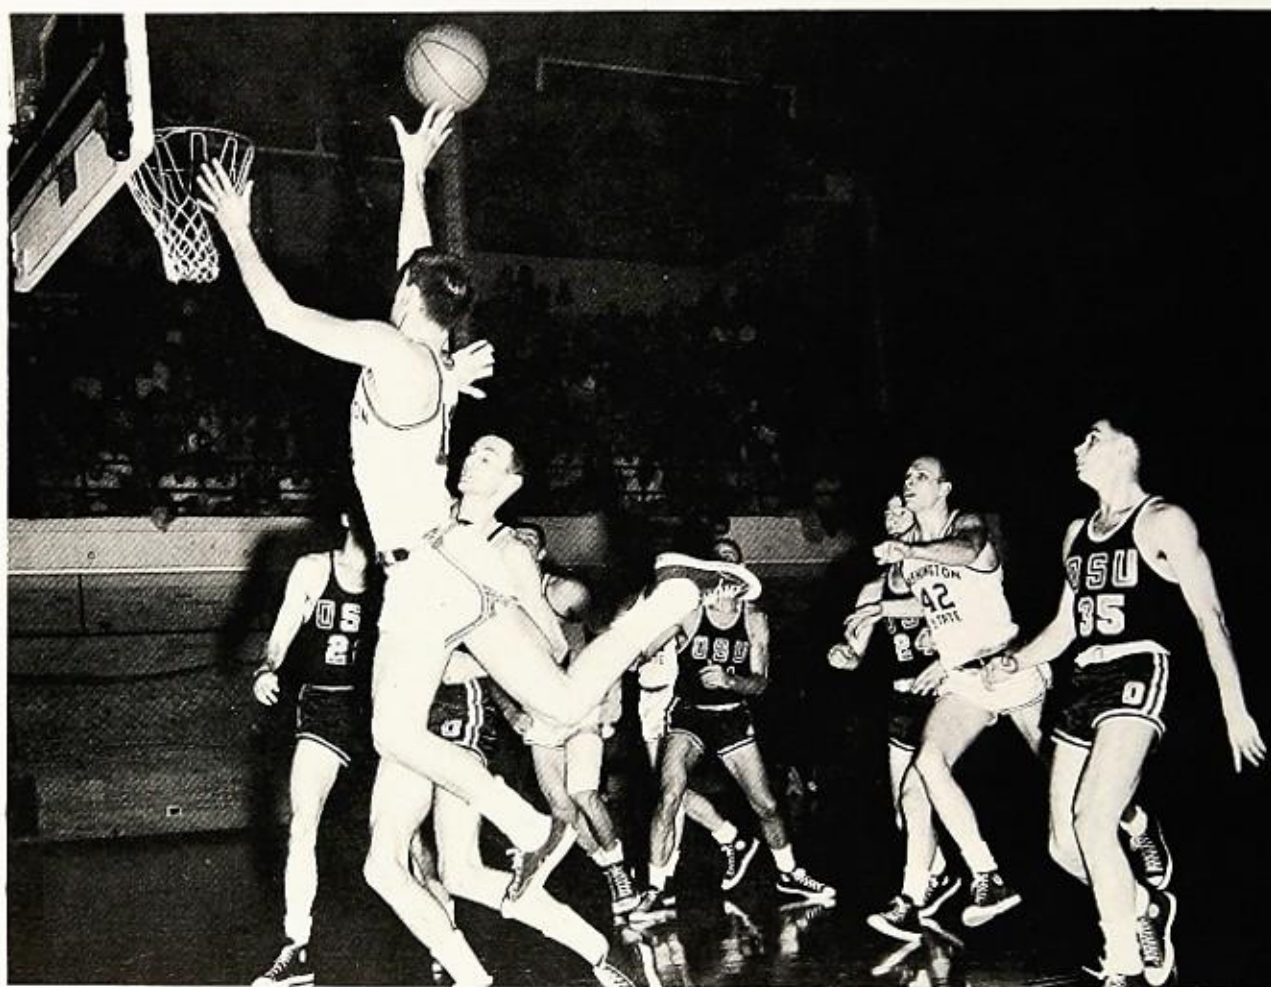

Sells fast-breaks them again. Closing in for a rebound are Ernie Woods and Terry Ball (14) of WSU.

OSU 78 69 68 62 63

Oregon State completely dominated its series with the Cougars during the 1961-62 season, and even took a fifth game in the Far West Classic. The Beavers, boasting one of the finest teams that Slat's Gill has had, went to the second round of the NCAA regionals this year before losing to UCLA which finished fourth nationally. Seven-foot center, Mel Counts, and guards, Terry Baker and Steve Pauly, were outstanding for the Beavers this year and all will be back again next Winter.

Bill McKenzie tosses in a running one-hander as Charlie Sells takes up the rear. The Cougs came closer this night, dropping the heated contest by a three point margin.

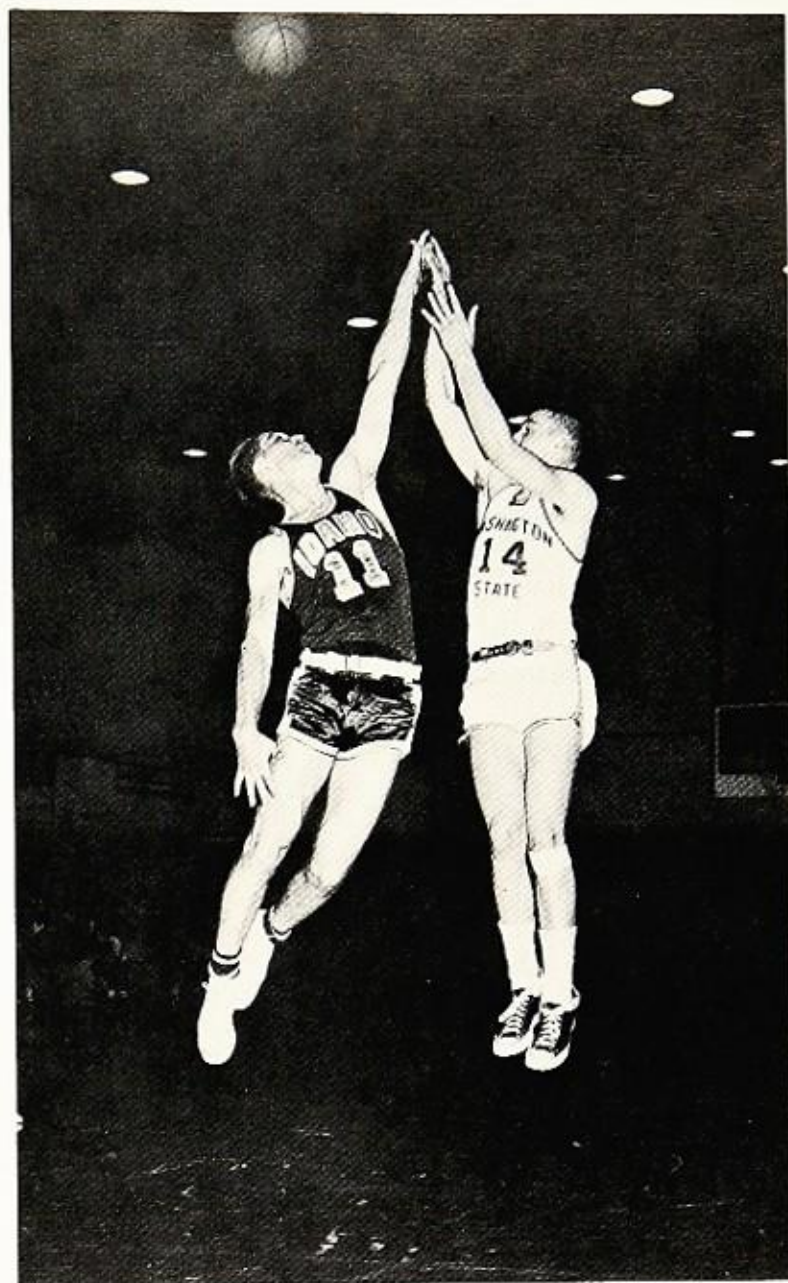

Action is tense as Dwight Damon drives by the base line en route to another Cougar score. Oregon State dominated play in this game, coming out on top by 13 markers.

Idaho's 75-74 victory over Washington State in the Far West Classic proved to be the difference for the Vandals in their five tilts this year with Marv Harshman's Cougars. Otherwise, the clubs split in four games at Moscow and Pullman. Three players shared scoring honors for the Cougars in the Idaho games this year. Dwight Damon was high with 18 on two occasions, Terry Ball led twice with 19 and 16, and Charlie Sells had 21 in one game for the Cougars. The series was extremely even. Two games were decided by a single point; the Cougars winning one and the Vandals taking the other. And two other tilts wound up with identical scores — in reverse. WSU beat Idaho 65-60 at Pullman and the Vandals took at 65-60 decision at Moscow.

Oregon	91	81	45	63

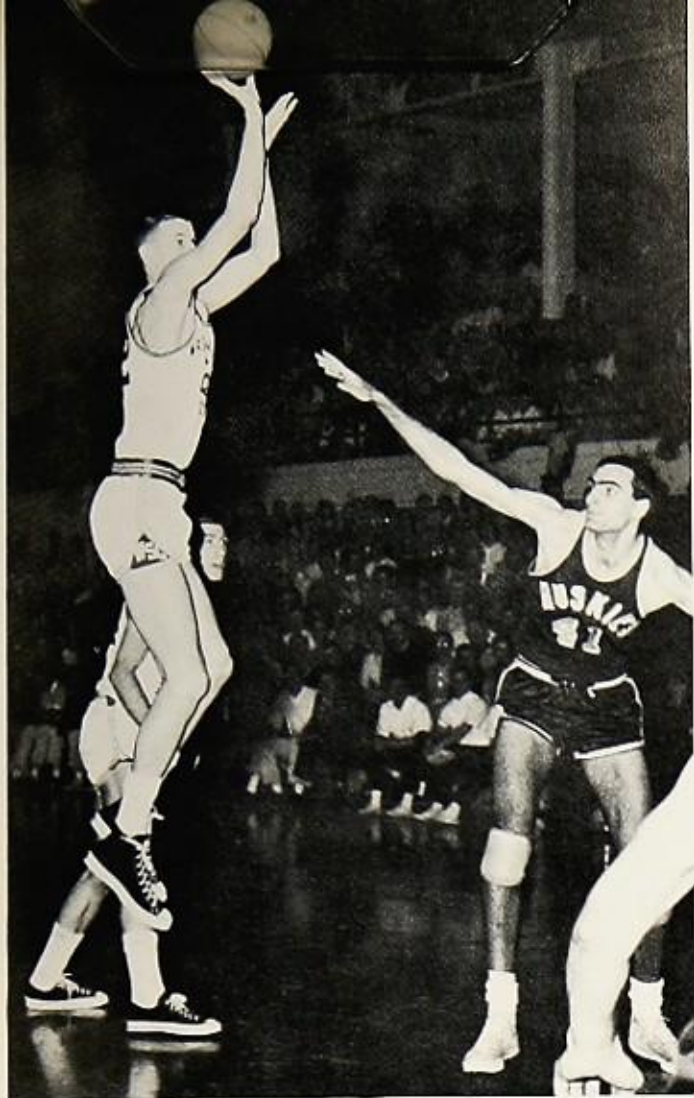

Washington State and Oregon split their four-game series this year, the Ducks winning a pair at Eugene and the Cougars taking both ends of the Pullman double-header. The Cougars had a good chance for better than an even split, but lost their Eugene opener 81-91 in overtime after leading most of the way. Terry Ball had 44 points for WSU in the two games at Eugene. At Pullman, WSU played two of its best games of the season and easily outdistanced the Ducks. Dwight Damon led a 71-45 landslide victory in the Pullman opener and Terry Ball hit 26 as the Cougars prevailed 70-63 in the final game.

Despite the efforts of this Oregon defender, Sells popped in the ball for two.

Allan Thompson hooks from outside for another Butchman basket.

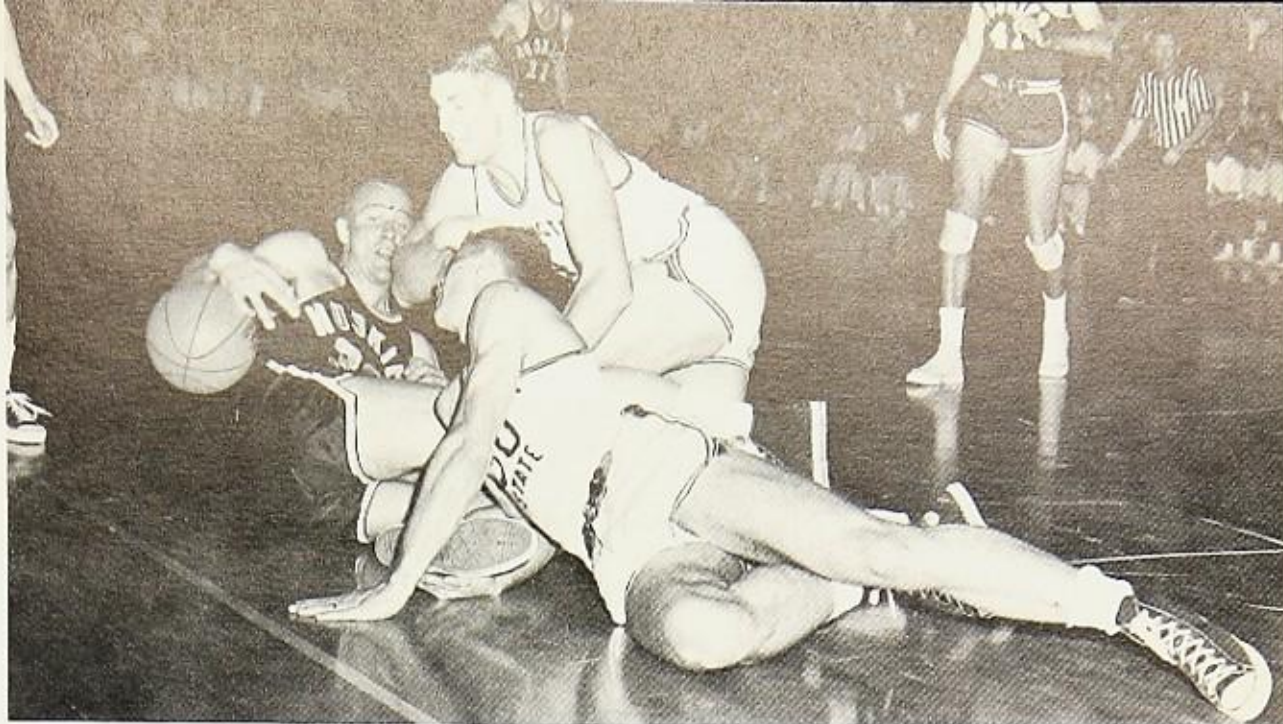

Guard Larry Carlson shot this two-pointer in the closing minutes of the season's final game. It wasn't enough.

WSU	51	58
UW	66	72

Washington State experienced two of its coldest nights this year on the occasions of games with Washington. The Cougars dropped a 51-66 decision to the Huskies in Seattle despite a 21-point performance by Terry Ball, and Washington made it two in a row by beating WSU 72-58 at Pullman in the season finale. In that one, Ball and Charlie Sells shared scoring highs for the Cougars with 12 apiece.

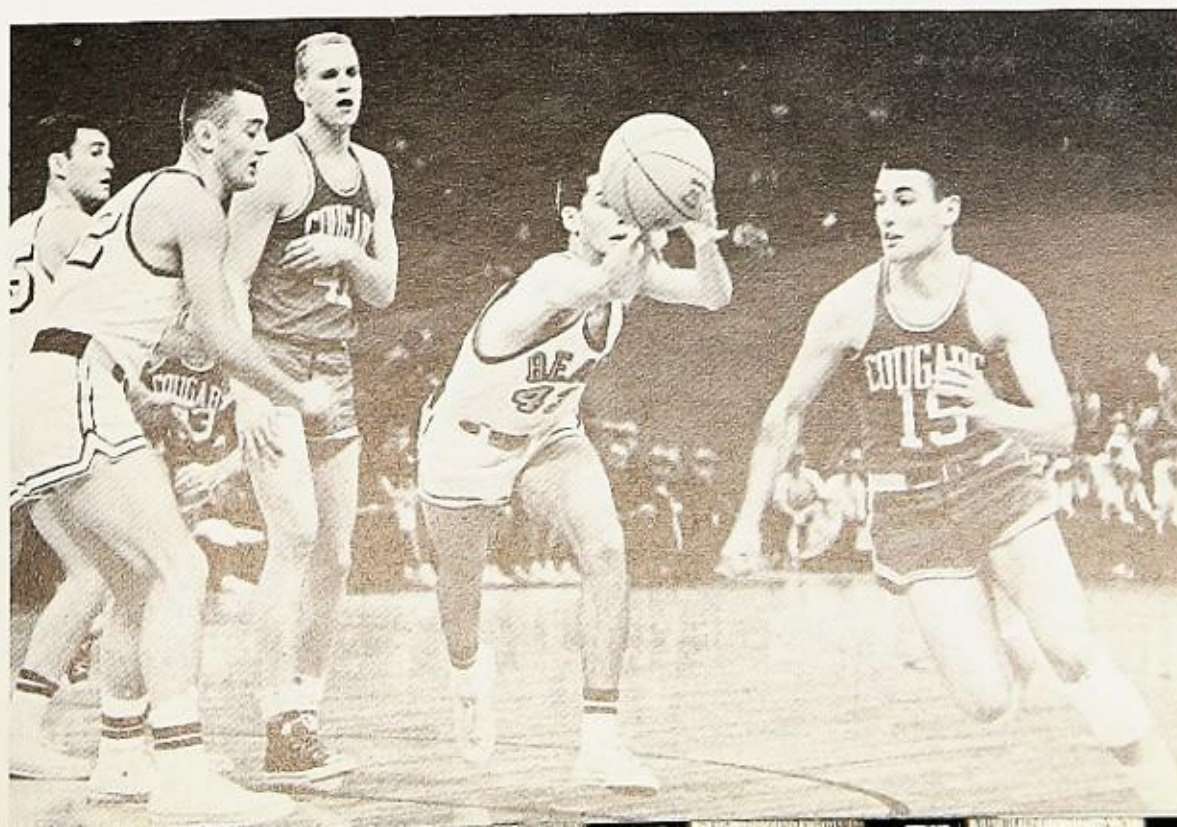

Determination is shown on the faces of Neil Dirom and Bill McKenzie as they wrestle for the ball with Husky center, Bill Hanson.

WSU stunned one of the finest fields in the history of the Far West Classic at Portland by opening the post-Christmas basketball festival with a 61-54 win over the California Bears. Coach Marv Harshman's quintet ran into the eventual champion, Oregon State, in the second round and dropped a 66-78 decision to the Beavers. In their final appearance of the Classic, WSU was edged 74-75 by Idaho in the most thrilling game of the tournament. Senior Forward Charlie Sells was the rebounding champion of the Classic and was named to the All-Tournament first team. In another vacation outing, the Cougs ran into a strong Indian defense at Stanford and dropped a 67-51 contest.

Terry Ball (15) runs after a loose ball in the Far West Classic. The fumble by California resulted in a turnover to the Cougs. Charlie Sells (41) watches the action from behind.

Gymnastics

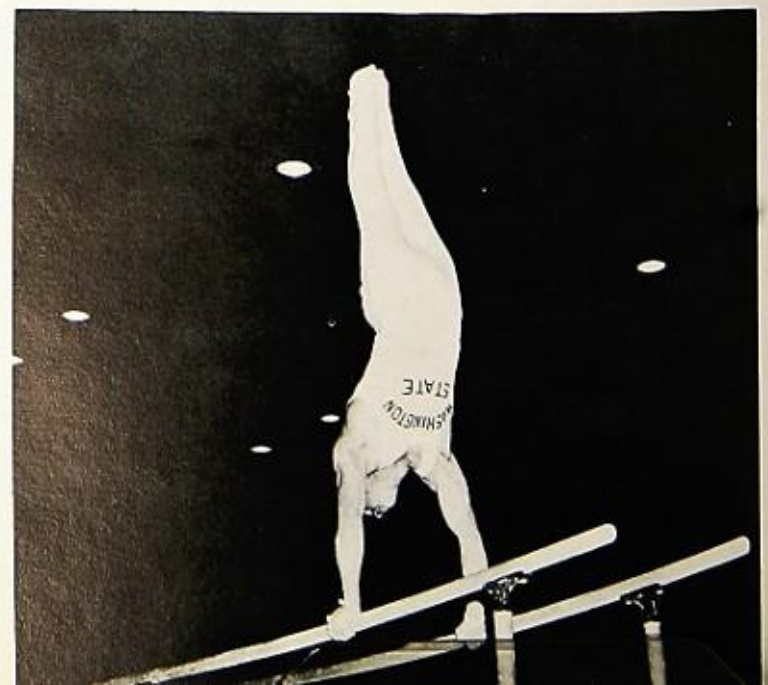

Dick Van Hersett, western champion in tumbling and seventh in the nation last year, is shown here tumbling.

1962 was a banner year for Coach J. Hubert Dunn's Washington State Gymnastics team. The Cougars' third place finish in the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastics association meet at Sacramento was the highest ever scored by a Northwest team in this tournament. Junior, Dick Van Hersett, provided another Cougar "first" when he won the tumbling event at the WIGA and became the only Northwest gymnast ever to win an individual title in the big Coastwide meet. Van Hersett and sophomore ace' Stuart Rehnstrom represented WSU in the NCAA gymnastics finals at New Mexico University.

Bob Olds on sidehorse. He is Pacific Northwest College champ for sidehorse for the second consecutive year.

Stu Rehnstrom, on parallel bars, was high point man for the Cougars and fifth on the West Coast in the all-around event.

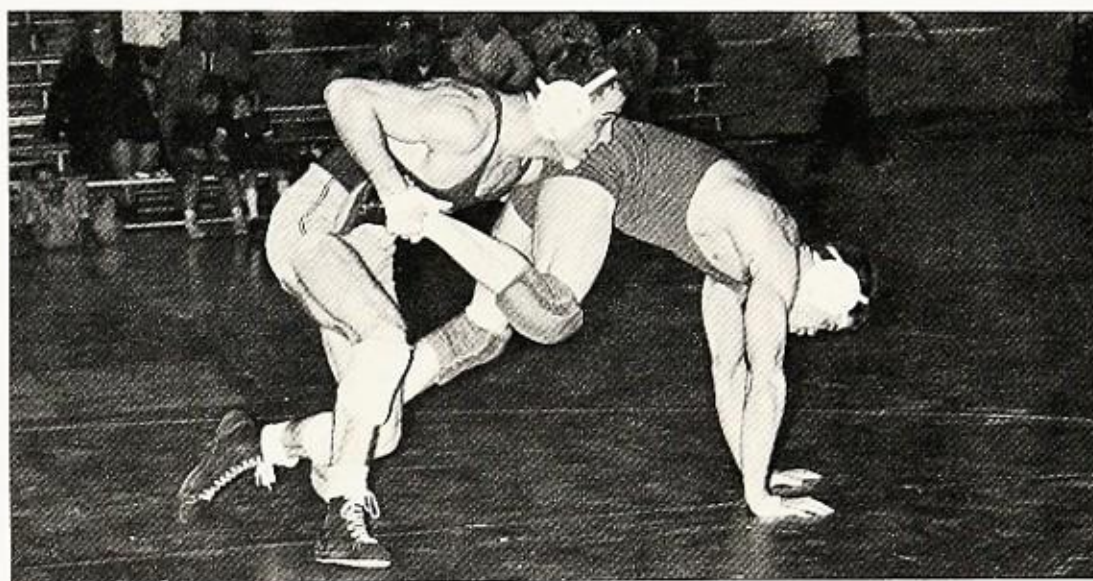

WRESTLERS: Lee Newell, Coach, Elvis Dellinger, Bruce Cook, Leroy Babbitt, John Carter, Dan Barclay, John Schlotfeldt, Bill Turnbull, Jerry Campbell, Bryce Cook.

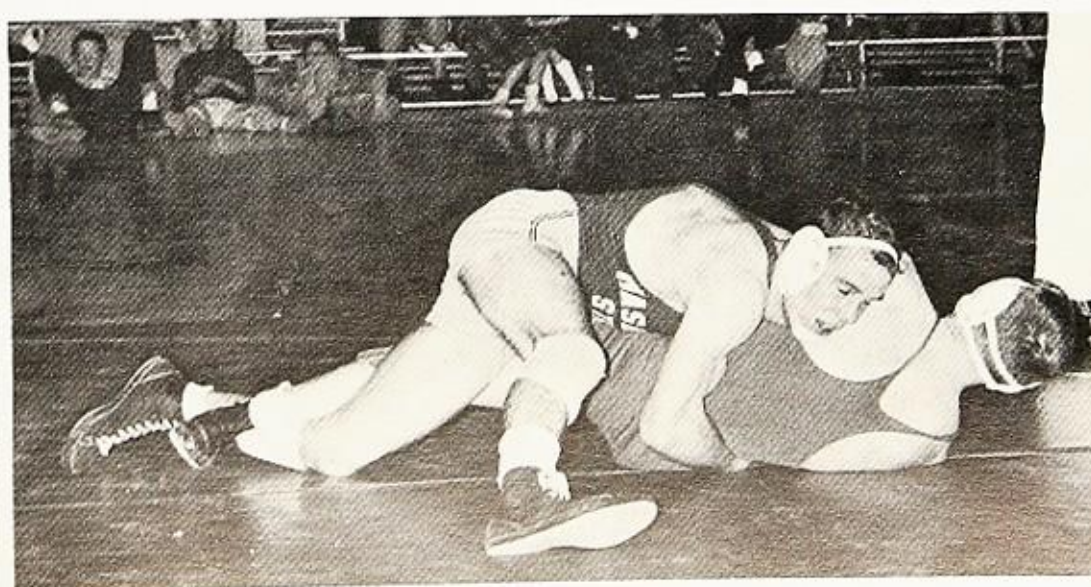

Wrestlers

Weakness in the lighter weights proved to be fatal to Washington State's wrestling hopes during the 1962 season. Coach Lee Newell's squad was hit early by crucial injuries and illness in the lower weight classes and never sufficiently recovered its strength. Senior Jerry Campbell was the most consistent winner for the Cougars, competing at 157 pounds, but it was LeRoy Babbitt, at 191, who was the only place winner for WSU in the Pacific Coast meet.

WSU's swimming fortunes rode with experience and youth this year — and they rode high. Senior Gary Chase, the Cougars' all-time finest backstroker, provided the experience, and sophomore Chris Marker, a freestyler with few equals, supplied the youth. The Cougars finished third in the Far West meet and Chase was voted the outstanding swimmer award. Both Chase and Marker went to the NCAA finals at Ohio State University.

Stance and reaction time make the difference in the start. Here, Marker (foreground) starts against swimmers from Idaho and Washington.

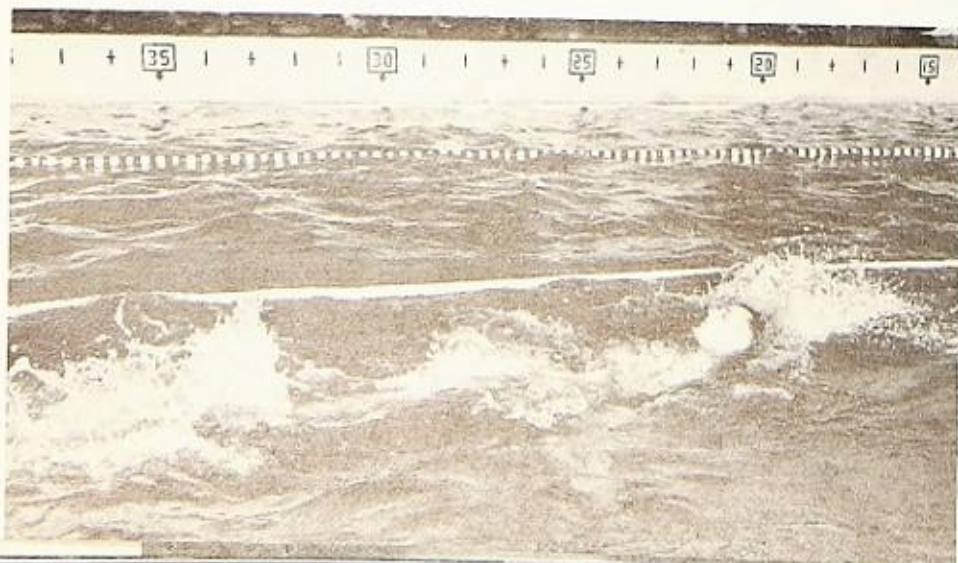

Bill Kelley holds a short lead over a Montana swimmer in the 200-yard butterfly.

Shaw McAfee, the Cougars' top breast stroker, came in first by 15 seconds in this race.

Gary Chase finished his career at WSU without ever being pressed in dual meet competition.

Only a sophomore, Chris Marker was a standout freestyler for the Cougs.

Baseball

Washington State placed four players on the Northern Division All-Star team at the conclusion of the 1962 baseball season, the first under new Head Coach Chuck Brayton. Catcher Pat Crook; first baseman Captain Paul Tomlinson; shortstop Zeke Blocklinger, and outfielder Bob Walker all were honored by selection to the league All-Star team. All were seniors.

WSU finished third in the Northern Division race this Spring and posted an overall record of 18 wins, 12 losses and one tie. In Conference play, the Cougars were 8-5.

Sophomore righthander Bob Stephens was the big mound winner for the 1962 Cougars. He had a 7-1 record and was 5-0 on the Conference season. Outfielder Ron Langhans led WSU in hitting for the entire season with a .345 average and catcher Crook topped the Cougars during the Conference season with a .375 mark which was good for second place in the loop.

Track

Cougar track and field athletes enjoyed a record-setting season in 1962 while winning four of six meets against Northwest opposition. Coach Jack Mooberry's squad defeated Washington and Idaho and lost to Oregon and Oregon State in dual meet competition, and the Cougars won a pair of indoor meets here and at Bozeman, Montana. Captain Don Bertoia, of Rossland, B. C., had his best season. The Canadian senior broke WSU's all-time mile run record with a time of 4:07.7 in the Far West meet at Eugene, and he tied the school 880 mark at 1:51.3 here against Oregon State. Wayne Wilson set a new standard in the pole vault with a leap of 14' 7½" against Oregon State, and Norwegian Eilif Fredriksen ranked near the top nationally with a leap of 50' 4¾" in the hop-step-jump against Washington.

Music

The Symphonic Band is a select band of 97 members which presents formal concerts throughout the school year. The highlight of the current school year was the appearance of Ferde Grofe as guest conductor for the Mother's Weekend Concert. Miss Sandra Backman, senior in music from Spokane, was piano soloist in Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue. The band's 1962 Tour included performances at schools in the Spokane area.

Plays

The Drama department produced an extreme variety of plays this season — from tragedy to farce, from moderns to period shows. There were thirteen plays produced, five in the Arena. One was presented in the Pullman High School. Seven were student directed, which was unusual for a school of WSU's size. All had public showings. Raisin in the Sun was the first college performance of a play with an all-Negro cast. No Neutral Ground, an opera, was produced by the Music department.

Seniors

The goal of the Senior Class as a unit and as individuals is graduation. The class government escaped the traditional disease, "senioritis," long enough to sponsor such memorable events as the Senior Ball and "late night" party in May, the Senior-Faculty Retreat, and Senior Picnic, a last "blast" held between senior finals and Graduation Day.

KWSC and KUGR held their annual banquet in April. Mr. Miller presented plaques to the outstanding seniors during the banquet.

WSU students presenting the news over KWSC television station.

Students gain valuable experience by presenting and producing television broadcasts.

KUGR

KUGR is one of the two campus radio stations. It is a student-run enterprise with student staffs on and behind the scenes. "Music to Study By" is a new feature included in the evening program. In addition, there are broadcasts of the latest news and sports reports plus the hits of the day.

Members of the staff find the music relaxing.

Agriculturist

The Agriculturist magazine is published three times a year by the Associated Students of the College of Agriculture, with a circulation of about 1500. Working on the magazine affords the staff members an opportunity to gain experience in many facets of magazine production. The Agriculturist is in its twenty-fourth year.

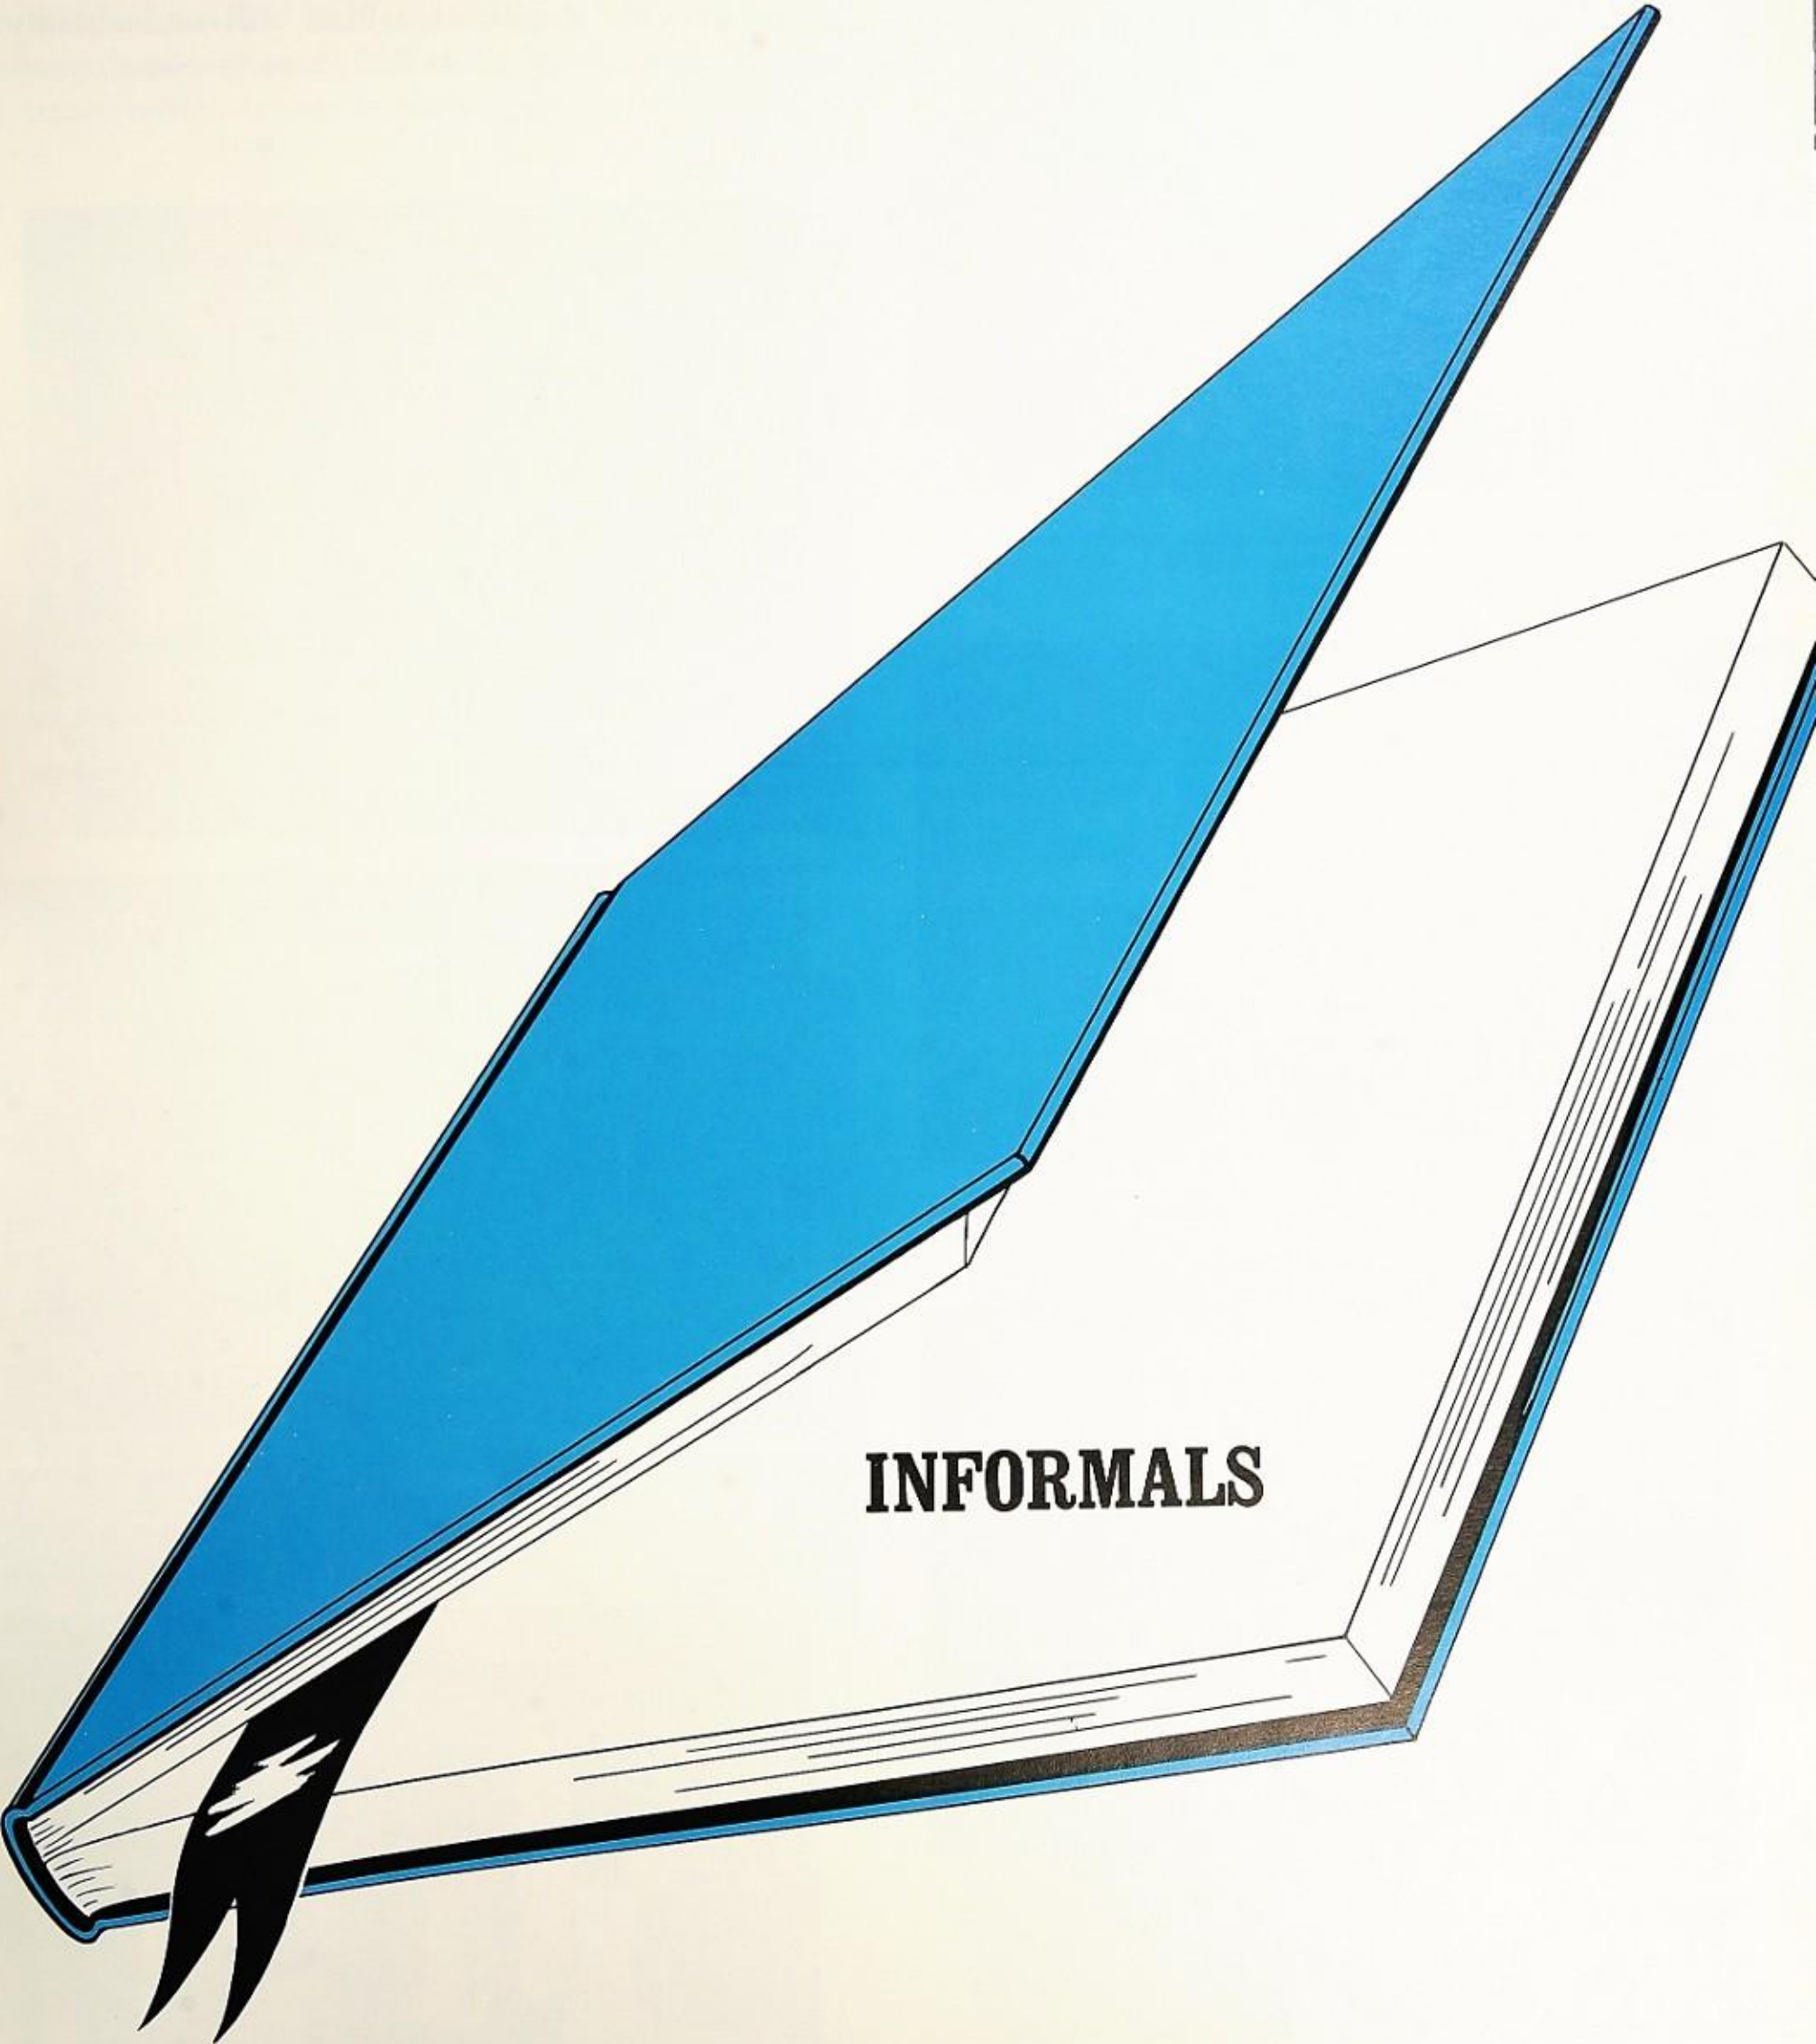

STAFF — ROW 1: Judy Munn, Nena Smothers, Della Marteny, Sandra Campbell, Vicki Hanson, Maynard Hicks. ROW 2: Greg Click, Frank Webb, Dwight Ferguson, George Murdock, Bill Kartman, Kenneth Migchelbrink.

Kenneth Migchelbrink, Business Manager; George Murdock, Editor; Greg Click, past Editor.

AGRICULTURIST BOARD: Maynard Hicks, Darrel Bienz, George Bowman, John Spencer, Alex Litzenberg, George Murdock, Ken Migchelbrink, Karl Felgenhauer.

INFORMALS

Registration

At last the packet, now the confusion really begins.

Registration does not need to be pictured to be remembered. The experience is enough. Student leaders talk about registration by mail in the future, but it's mostly talk. Registration lines will undoubtedly be part of the WSU scene for years to come!

Wonder, if section 3 at 10 a.m. would be better? Those 8 o'clocks are deadly.

Hmm, I didn't think she'd make it through reinstatement and be registering.

It's a mess from any position.

Just like CUB fountain lines.

Smile! You may want the picture for your liquor card.

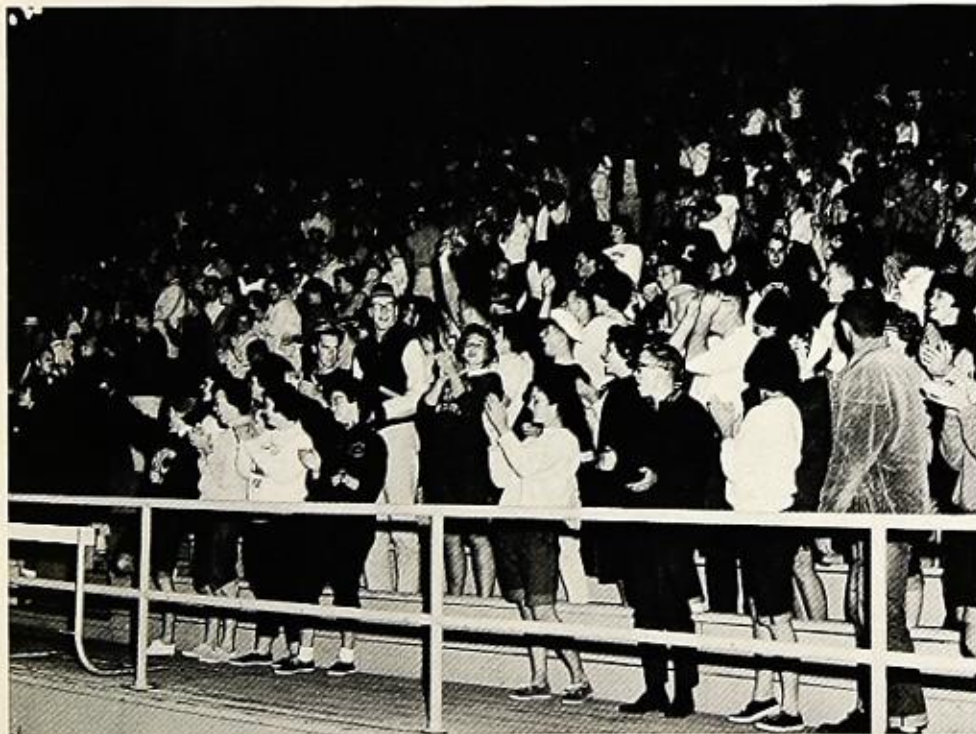

Rallies

Students always have time for rallies, and they must be educational because of living group emphasis on attendance. They help let off steam, especially when they are after mid week. Rallies also serve as an informal exchange and mixer. Whether they're political or for the team, rallies are an important part of WSU life.

What ya laughing at Dad? You don't look so sharp yourself.

You took the words right out of my mouth.

So you can't breath, so your heart is beating too fast, so you want to die. Okay, just don't hold up the chain.

The reason for the pajamas, is that I'd just gone to bed.

Oh, when the Saints go marching in

Campaign Signs

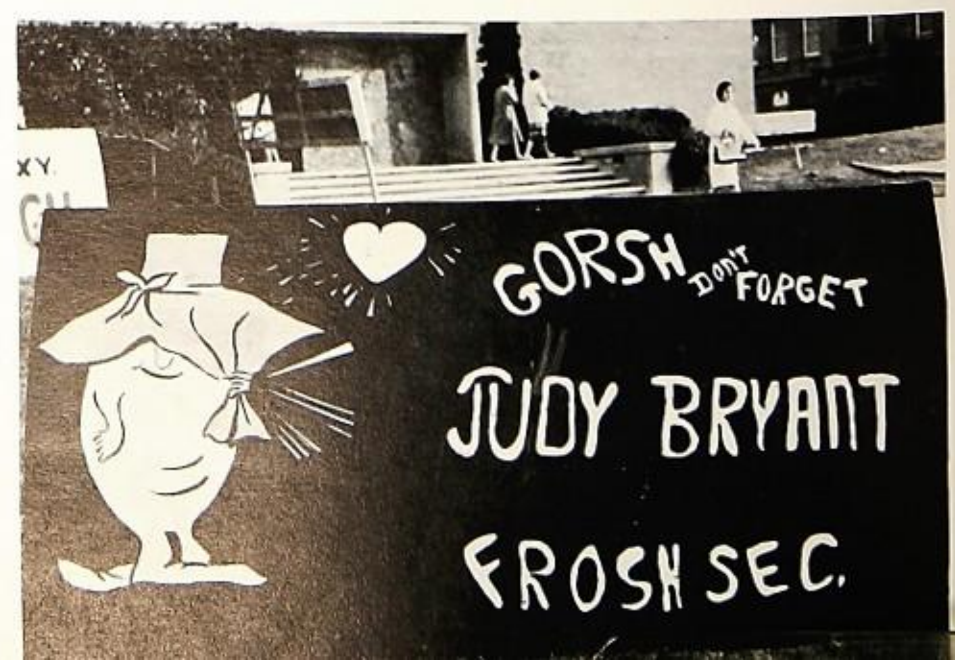

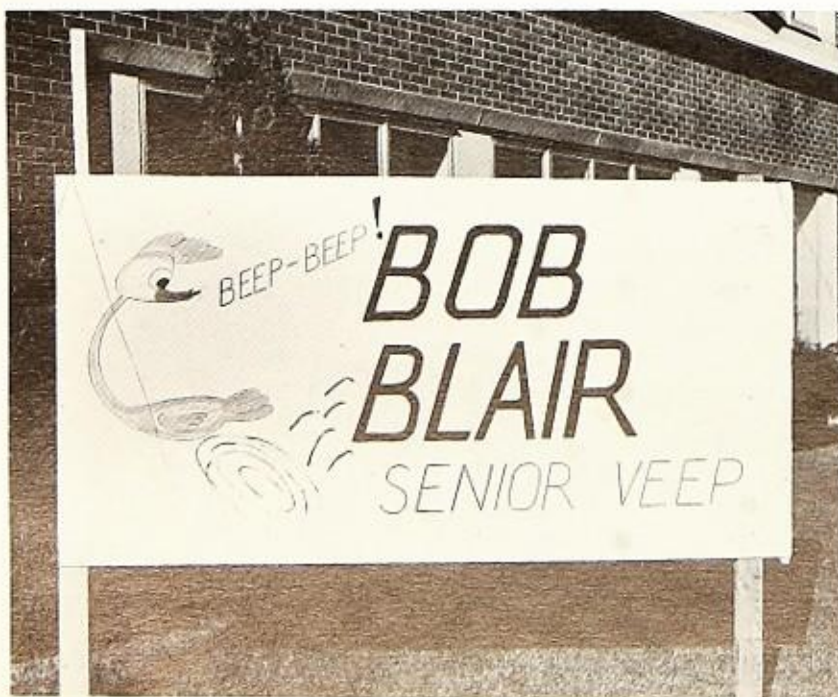

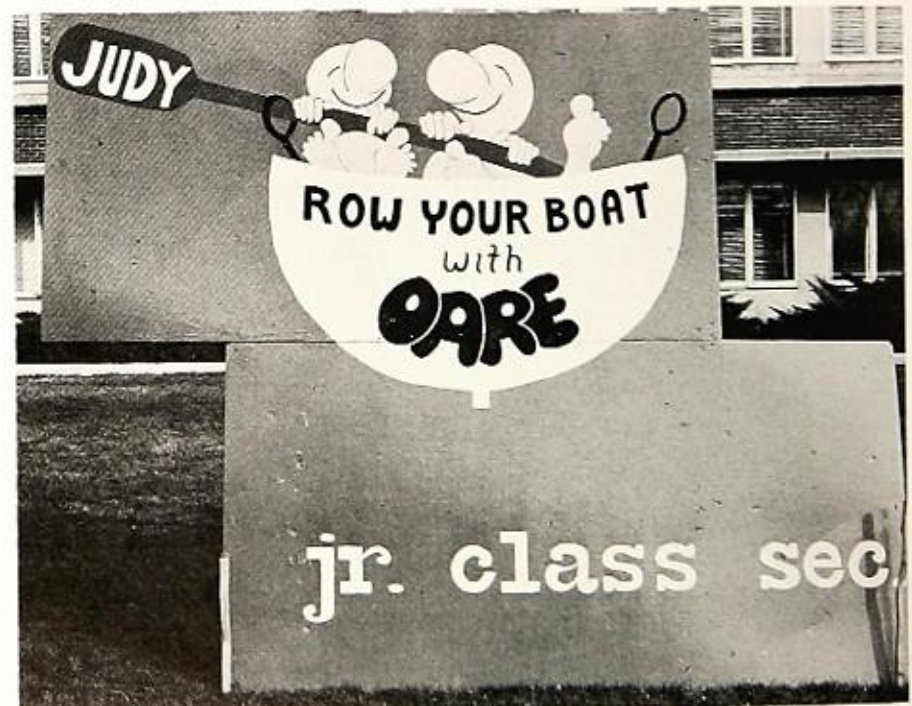

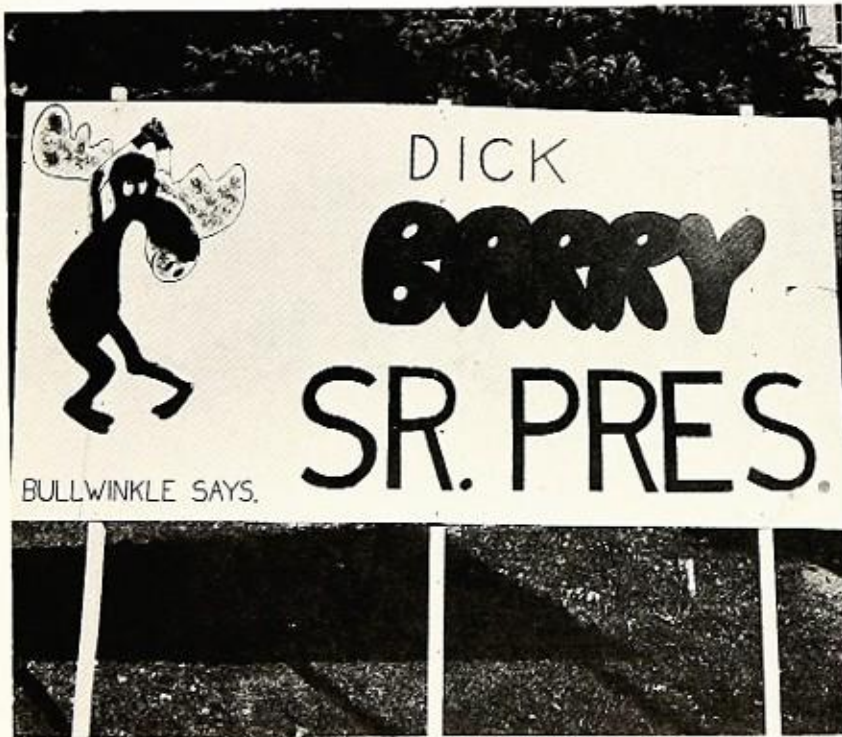

Campus lawns blossom with slogans and signs during fall class election campaigning. Even favorite cartoon characters contribute their opinions.

Greek rally.

Independent rally.

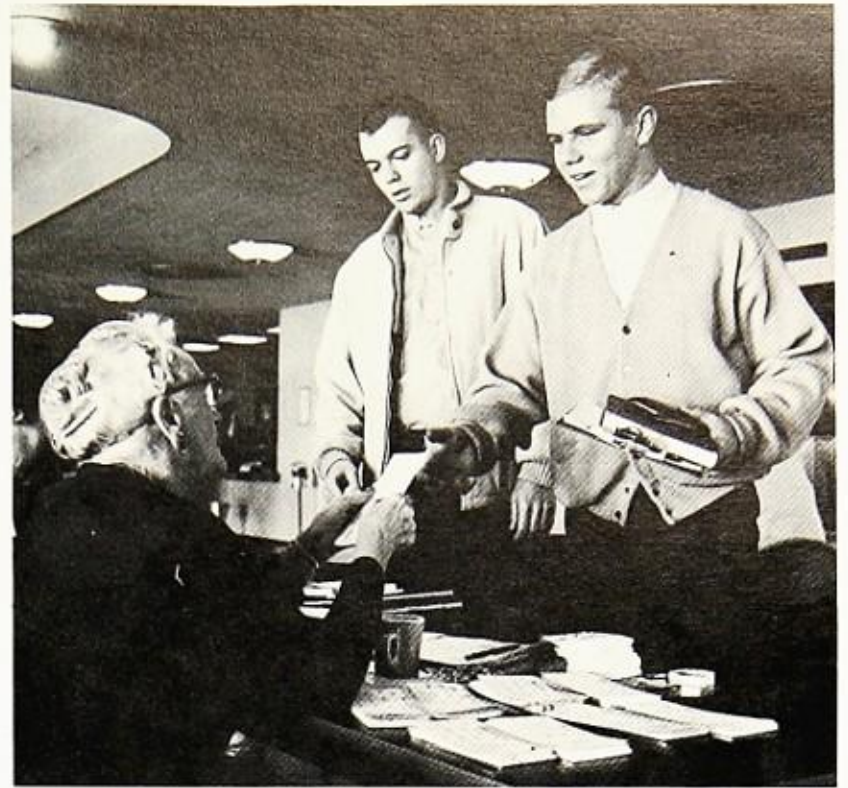

Class Election

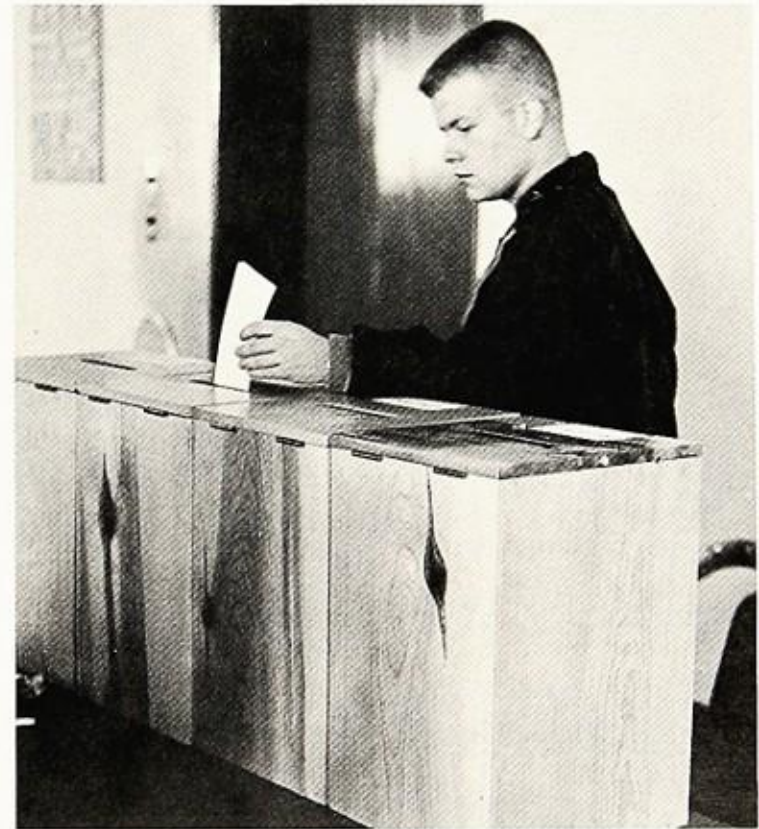

Class elections are a major event on the fall calendar. Freshmen are enthusiastic, sophomores are eager, juniors participate, and seniors don't care about anything.

'Can't have two? Shucks, I can't decide which candidate I want.

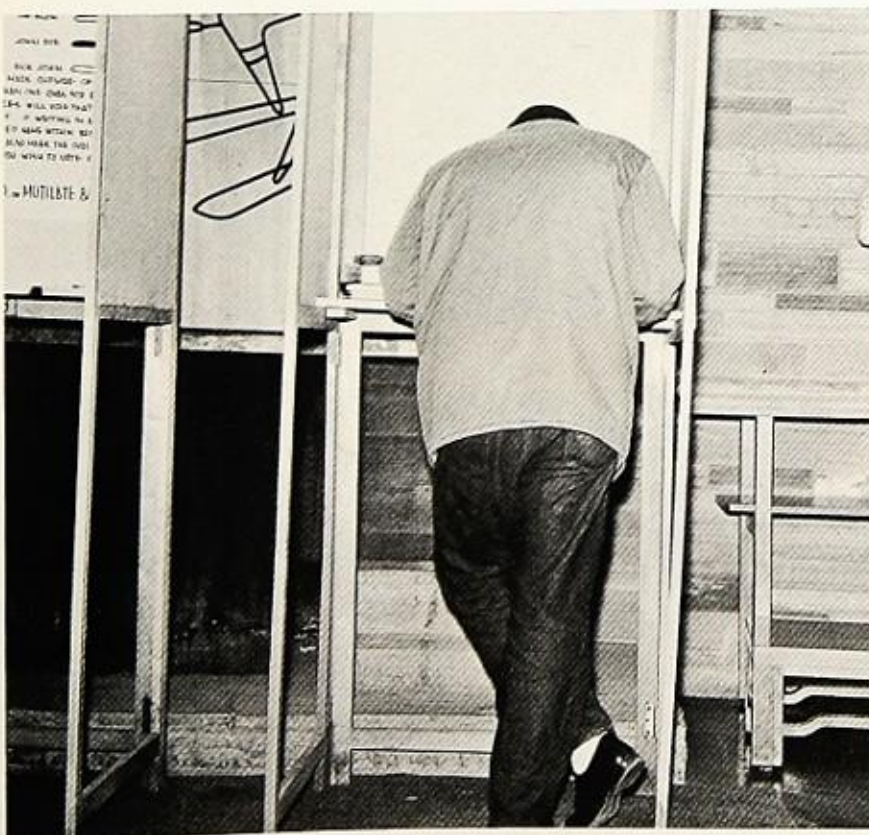

Just like falling off a limb. I always vote straight party.

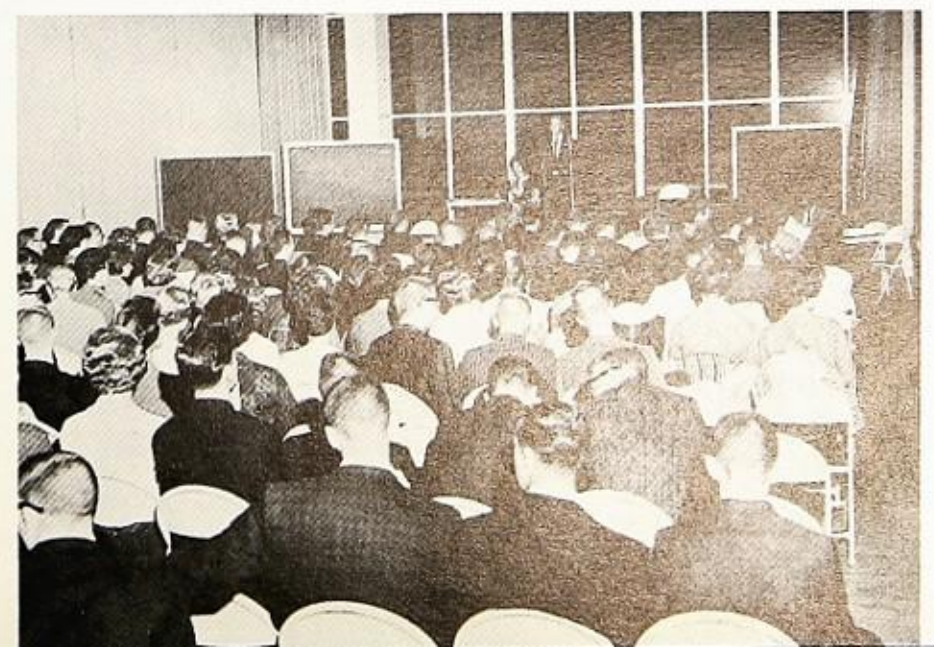

J-o-h-n D-o-e. I always have at least one write-in on my ballot.

And caucus delegates, I assure you that this candidate will carry our banners well.

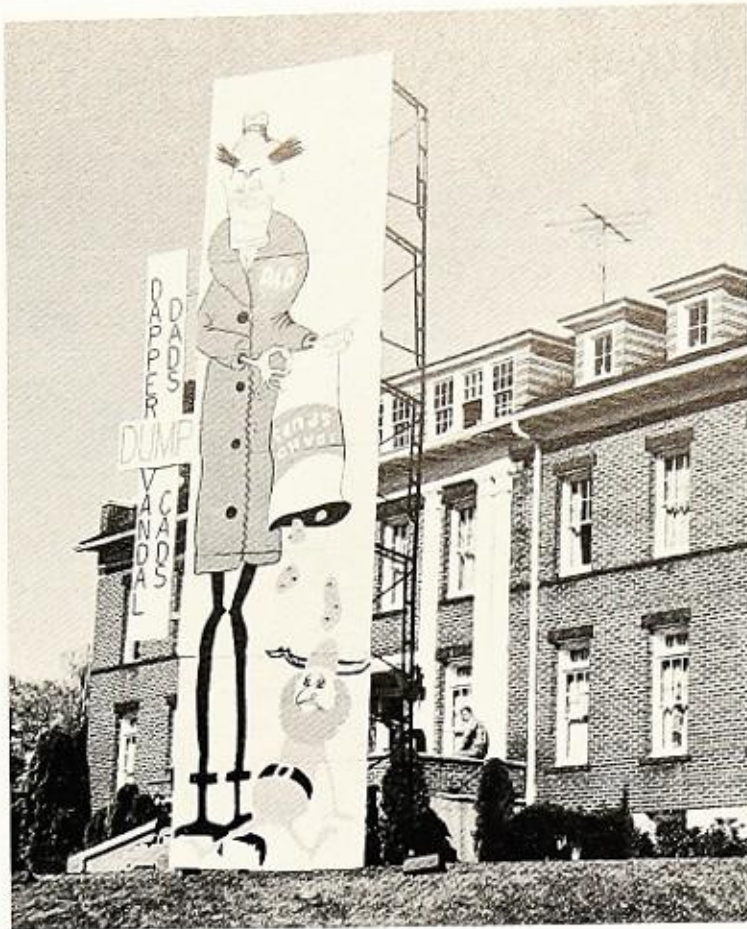

I didn't vote as Big Brother said, but he'll never know anyway.

Dad's Day Signs

Dad's Day signs afford an opportunity to express artistic ability. Dads enjoy the weekend, the signs, and most of all the "joy" their son or daughter is getting out of college.

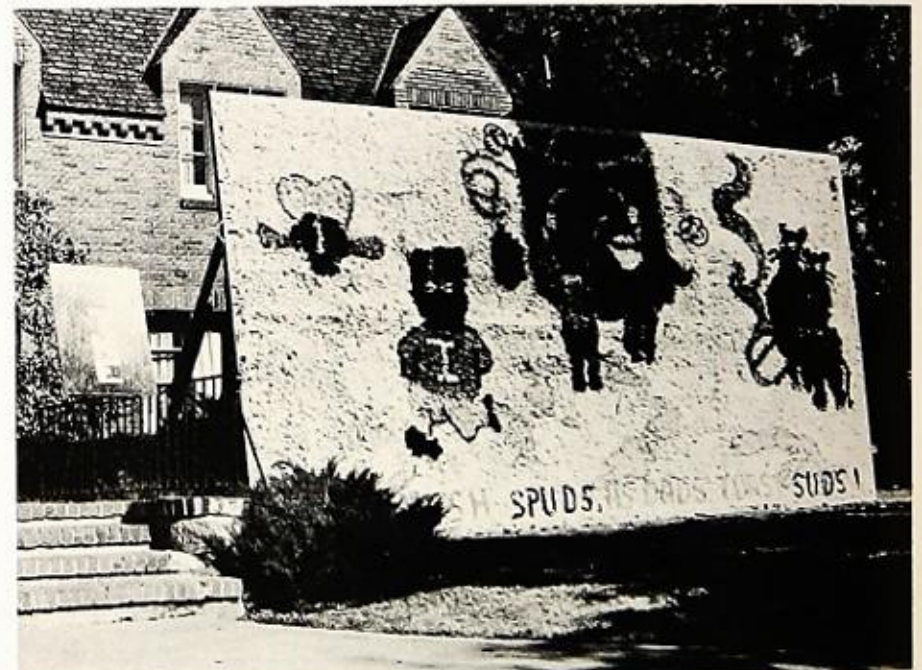

Actually Dad, it was educational; I used all of the techniques of Engineering 375. (First Place)

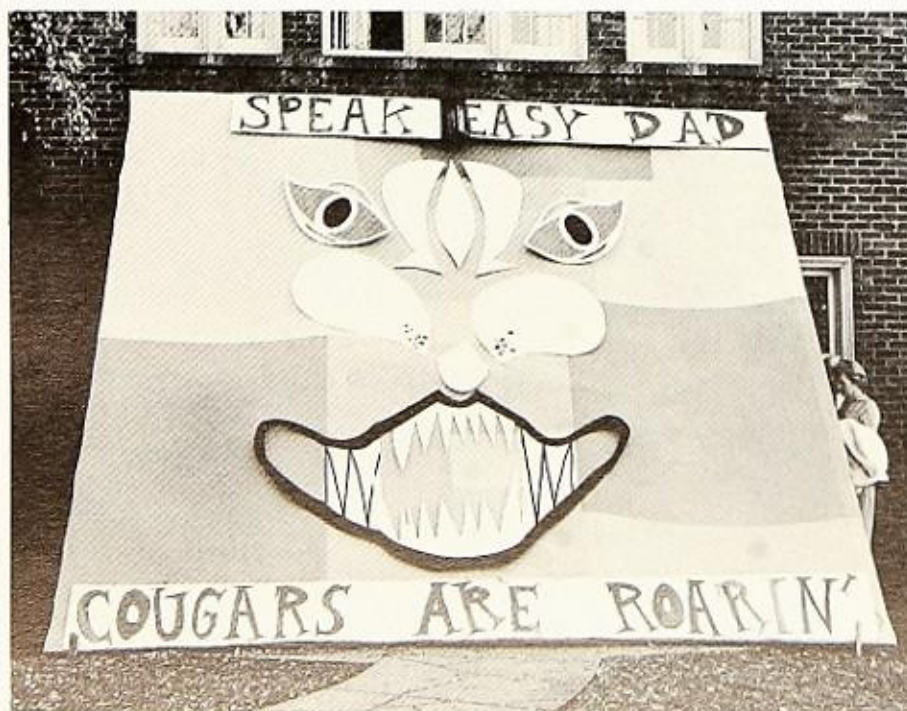

Booze in a dorm? ... Shame girls ... (First Place)

Where would we get ideas if we had no T.V.?

The tissue paper we used ...

All that work, all those hours — one test down the tubes.

"Twenty-three Skidoo" and all that oh rooty root ...

Dad's Day Activities

Dad's Week End keeps dads, sons and daughters busy. Activities fill the schedule, and never a dull moment occurs.

Mixed chorus singing medley of Dad's "old favorites."

Presentation of "Dad of the Year" trophy to Mr. George Nethercutt.

Dad's Day audience at Variety Show.

Trampolinist is caught in mid air at Variety Show.

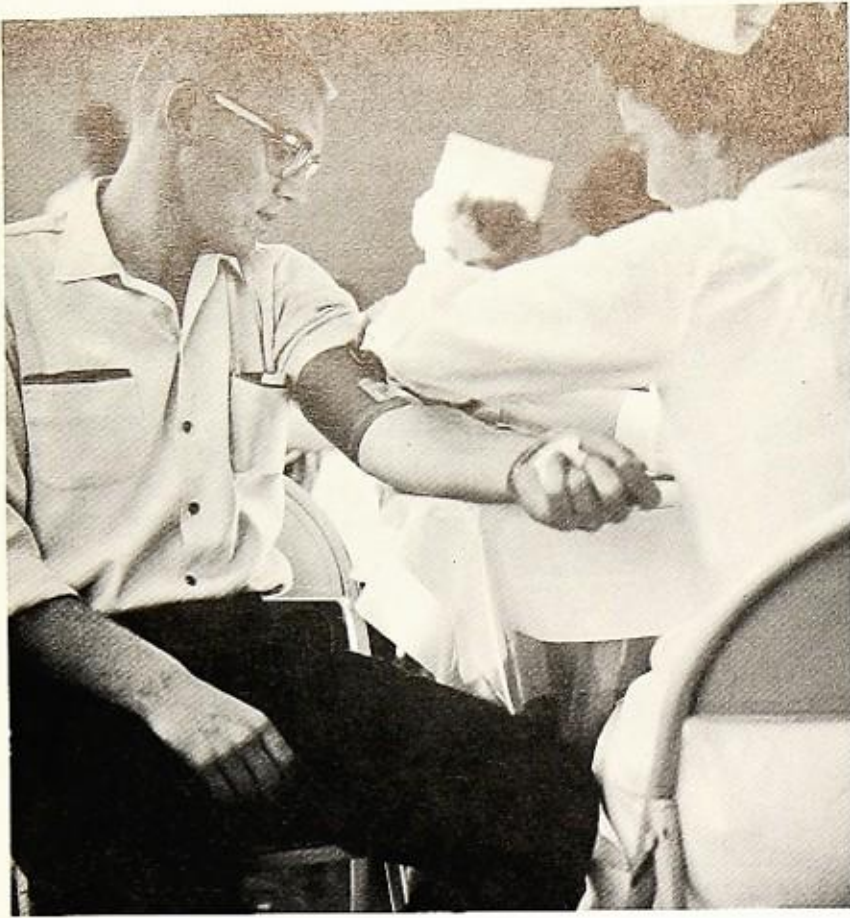

Dad's Day Breakfast in the Cub Ballroom.

Official winners of Dad's Day scholarships.

Jr. Class Blood Drive

"We're out for blood" the juniors said. Living groups were pitted against one another to see who could be the best donator. The cause is worthy, but the experience takes nerve — and blood too.

Pit-a-pat-pat, pit-a-pat-pat. I'm really not scared, but my blood pressure is.

You honestly aren't getting anything? I must be dead already.

The temperature is normal — darn it. This was my last chance to get out of it.

That needle doesn't look bad at all.

We haven't lost a donor today, but yesterday . . .

Homecoming Signs

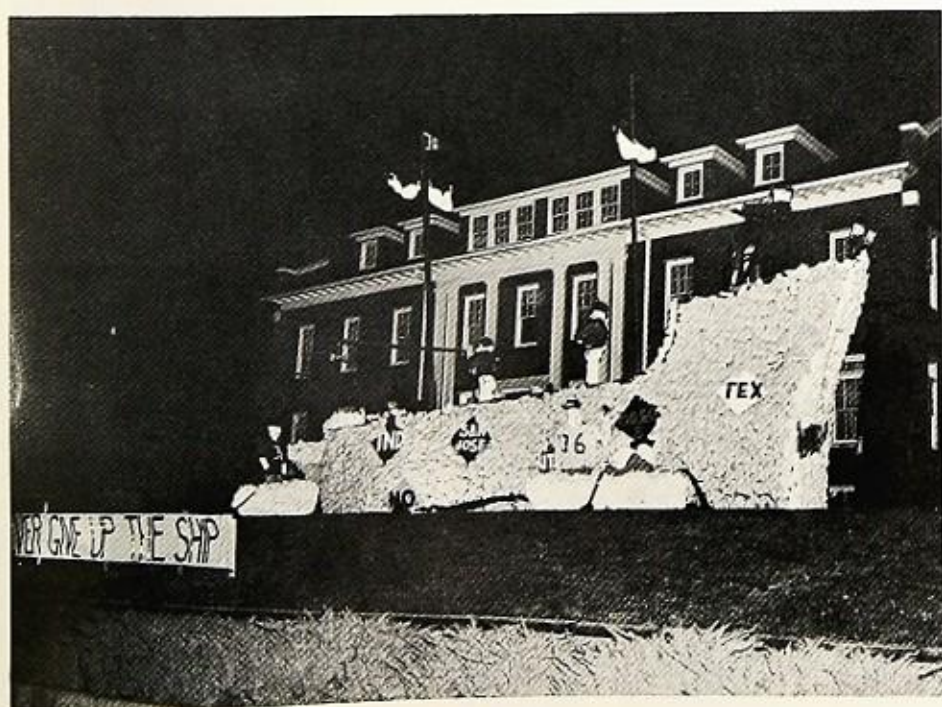

Alums find it difficult to recognize their old living groups when they return to the campus for Homecoming. Residences take on a new look as they vie in display competitions. Floats have taken a back seat for the present.

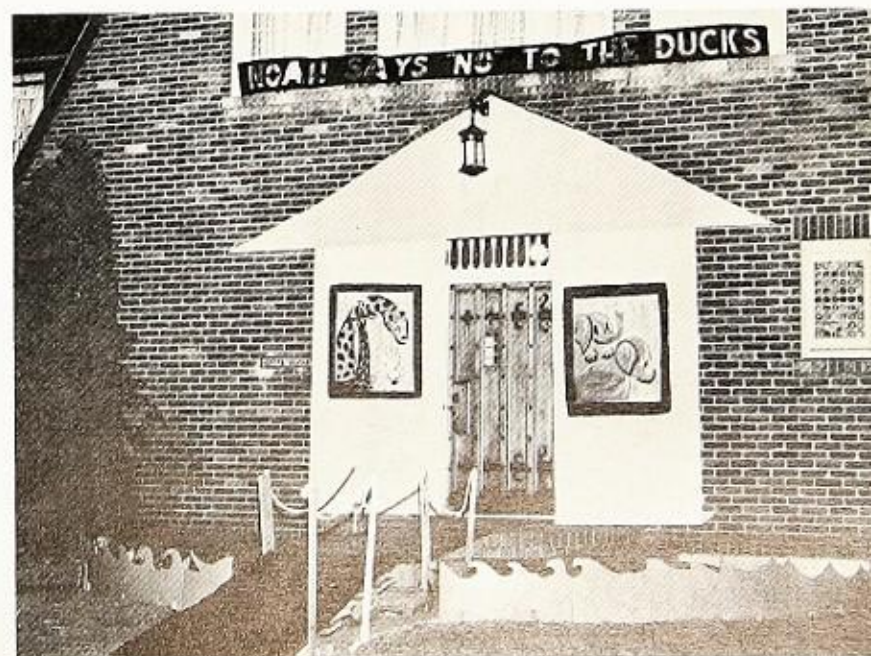

Theta Chi's Duck Tub took First Place in the Men's Division.

Coman Hall sailed to First Place in the Women's Division.

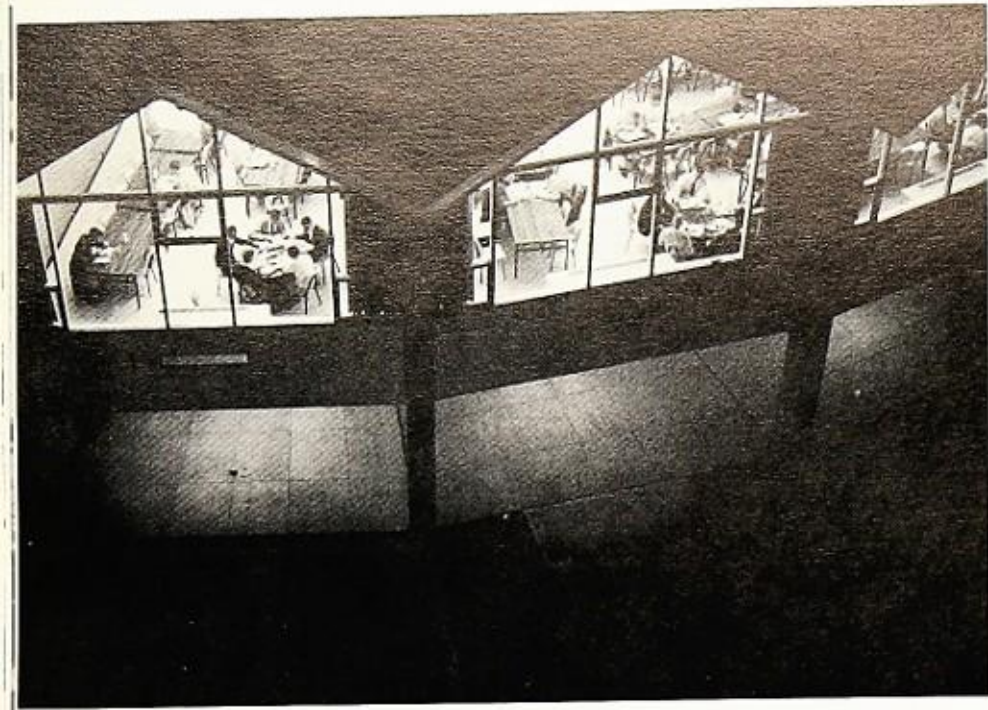

The Sigma Nu's "Never Give Up the Ship" to San Jose.

Noah and Kappa Alpha Theta prefer Cougars to Ducks.

Rotunda

Stanton J. Hall Rotunda, named for a former WSU Regent, serves the men of Gannon, Goldsworthy, Kruegel, McAllister, and Pioneer Halls. Approximately 1300 men are served each meal. It opened for breakfast November 27, 1961.

Bird's-eye view of dining hall.

A handful of satisfied customers leaving the Rotunda.

It looks as if peas were on sale again this week.

The "Ridpath" of WSU.

Hey, give me another roll!

Spring Elections

G-Par Rally.

"Everybody loves a lover."

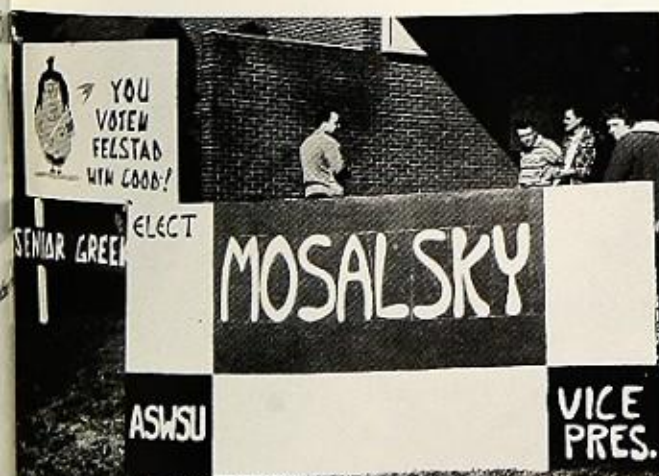

I-Pac Rally.

"It's supposed to be impossible to make a mistake."

"Just pull the switch by the name of your choice."

Alex Mosalsky's sign attracts Cub customers.

Greg Click's sign has a message for libe dwellers.

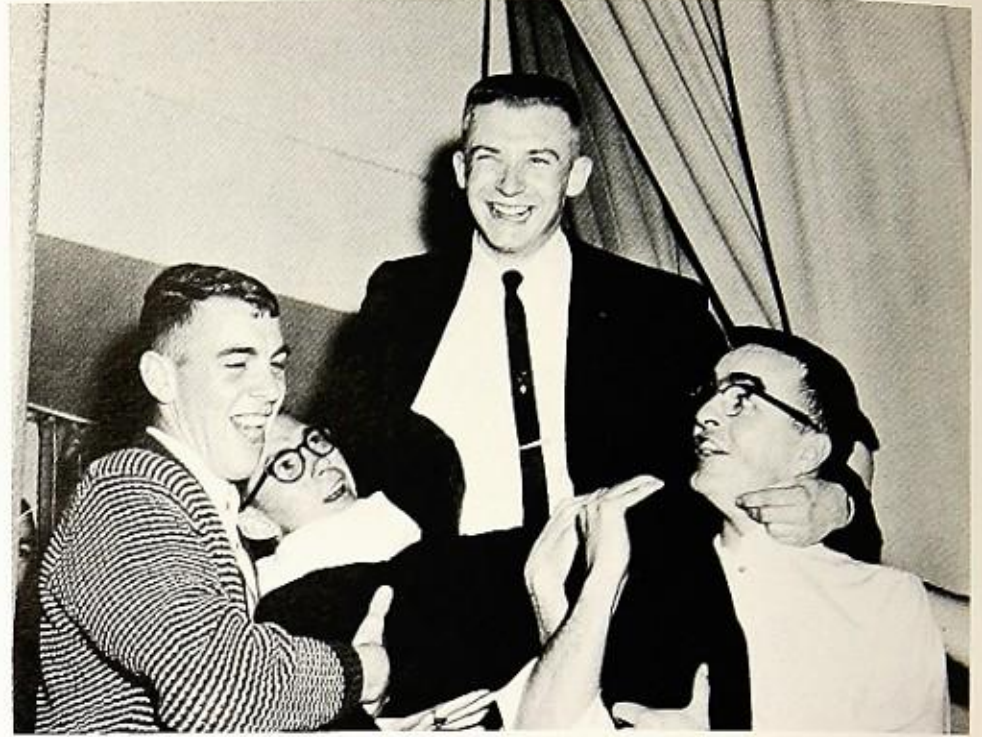

Kay Wight was the students' choice.

ASWSU Elections

Greg Click, President, and Kay Wight, Secretary.

Greg's supporters carry him to the stage.

Senior Independent and Greek Men and Women.

Junior Independent and Greek Men and Women.

Sophomore Independent and Greek Men and Women.

Marv Swenson presents activity awards to Judy Rees and Dave Hylton.

Cub Events

Kappa Alpha Theta wins trophy for outstanding pledge class.

Model Sandra Snitily is escorted from runway.

Women's Day style show model pauses for crowd.

Activities Roundup displayed for all interests.

Cub sponsored activity displays at Activities Roundup.

Bidders puzzle over list of services up for bids.

Cougar Campus auctioneer calls for bids on living groups.

Cub Activities

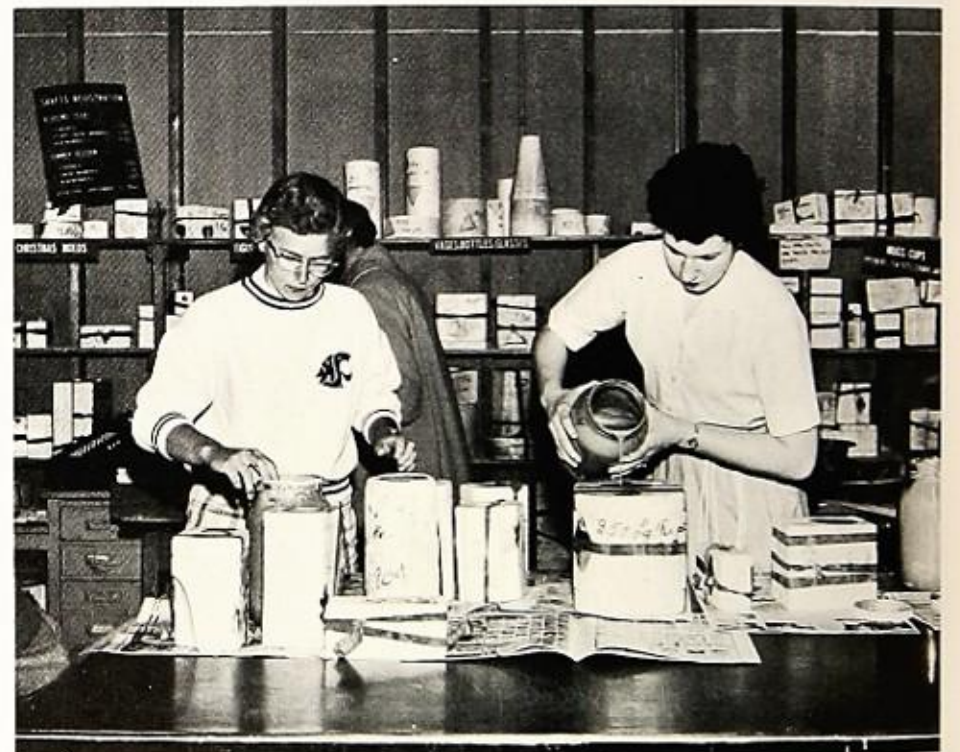

Sunday afternoon bridge lessons drew large crowds.

Chess games call for deep concentration.

Cub Crafts area projects are varied.

Cub Crafts area is usually a beehive of activity.

Cake decorating classes help prove "The way to a man's heart —."

These works of art require skill and coordination.

Cub Labs

"Was that two lemon cokes and one lime or two limes and one lemon?"

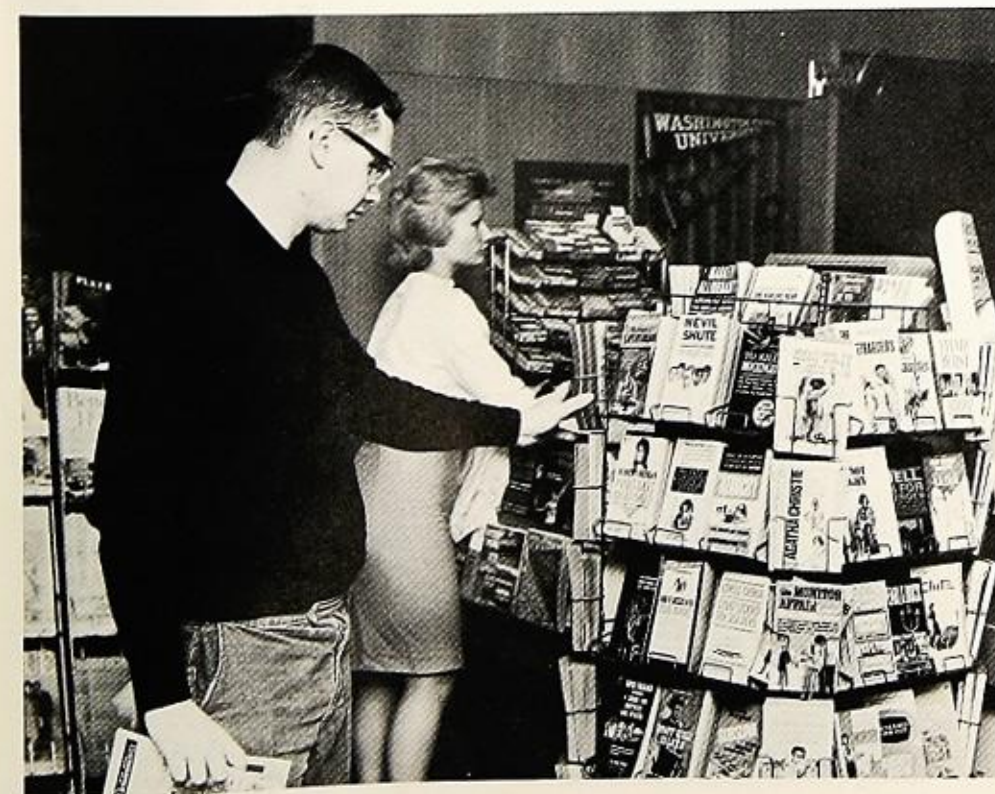

"There's the blonde from my English class."

Coffee time means Evergreen time.

"My favorite — a cup of Cub mud!"

"It's hard to make a choice from all these good books."

"How come they're always out of my favorite?"

Sitting one out at the Registration Ball.

Wayne Bliesner of the Tromb Kats at November's Watch Night.

The Sig Ep "Five of Hearts" entertain in Fresno.

Display of instruments was added attraction at Musicians' Ball.

Pajama Rallyers gather in Butch's Den.

The Delta Gamma Trio sings for the Sophomore Talo.

The dance floor is crowded at the Military Ball.

At Your Leisure

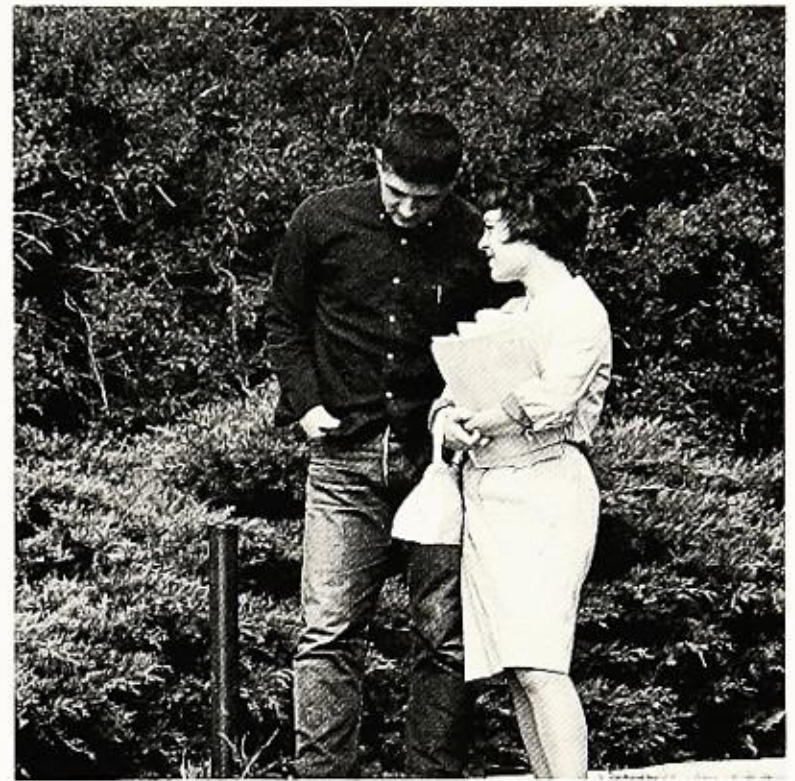

Three guesses where these gals have been.

"Do you think we should cut that boring class today?"

"Do you think we could get through the line at Ferdinand's before class?"

"Would you like to come to our dance Saturday night?"

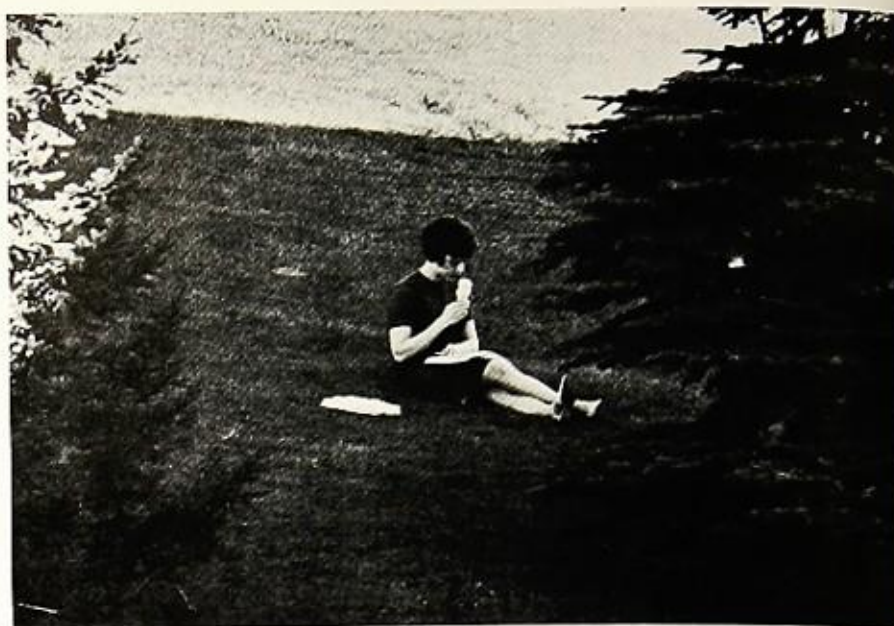

"Since you had a legitimate excuse, I guess you can borrow my notes."

Spring

"Not really!"

Quiet spot on campus.

Building up courage to go study.

The girl watcher.

This beats sitting in a stuffy classroom.

Mother's Weekend Events

Mother's Weekend activities are pictured on the following two pages. May Queen Coronation, Spur Songfest, and Mother of the year are included.

May Queen Coronation: Tim Manring and Mrs. French congratulate Alice Thompson.

Wayne Crinklaw crowns Mother of the Year, Mrs. Howard Damon.

Alice Thompson presents trophy to Community Hall, Women's Division winner.

May Queen Alice Thompson and her Royal Court.

Vet Medicine, winner in Men's Division of Spur Songfest.

Delta Gamma and Phi Sigma Kappa, winners of Mixed Division in Songfest.

Mother's Weekend Events

Acknowledgments

My staff and I would like to thank everyone who made this yearbook possible. Without the help, assistance, and guidance from the faculty and many students, the editing of a yearbook is impossible. Not everyone can be mentioned, but the students who worked the hardest are featured in the Chinook section of this book.
